DEATH OF MR J. F. HALVEY.

Among a large circle of friends the death of Mr James F Halvey, which took place last evening at his residence, Dook Road, is greatly regretted. The deceased had only been ailing a very brief period, and his demise in the prime of life has come as a great affliction to his widow and relatives. He carried on the business of motor and cycle agent in the city for a long number of years, and by his business capabilities, geniality of manner, and disposition, he developed an extensive trade. In his early days he was a prominent cyclist, and had many a win to his credit. In private life he was affable, courteous, and immensely popular. He was a strong supporter and member of the Executive of the County Limerick Coursing Club fixtures, and was always conspicuous at the Irish Cup meeting. His death, as stated, has come as a shock to very many friends in the city, and will be learned with poignant regret in every centre of athleticism in the South.

MISCELLANEOUS ITEMS.

The Pope has sent a contribution of £40 through Cardinal Gasparri to the Rome Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. During a debate in the Senate last night on the bachelors tax, says a Paris telegram dated Thursday, there was a hot argument on the subject of procedure. Finally the President put on his hat and suspended the sitting. This is an almost unprecedented event in the Senate. A meeting of the Limerick Branch of the Railway Clerks' Association adopted a resolution sympathising with the secondary teachers in their fight for a living wage. The Branch passed a vote of condolence with the relatives of the late Mr O'Callaghan, station master, Nenagh, to the time of his death last week, a member of the Association.

Over 200 delegates from all parts of the world attended a revival Conference of the International Law Association at Portsmouth on Thursday. Earl Reading, President, said that the League of Nations, which now represented international law, was the hope of humanity. His answer to scoffers and sceptics of the League was that there was no alternative. He did not despair of abolishing war in time. The League would prevent some wars. There might be matters it could not dispose of, but even there its opinion would have great effect.
