BRITISH TROOPS

Leave Viceregal Lodge.

Two Barracks Handed Over.

The Viceregal Lodge and the Chief Secretary's Lodge, Phoenix Park, were vacated by their British guards on Thursday and handed over to National soldiers. Three regiments afterwards left the Richmond and the Island Bridge Barracks and sailed for England.

DEATH OF MISS C O'BRIEN, BALLYCUMMIN.

We regret to announce the death of Miss Cecilia O'Brien, Ballycummin Castle, daughter of the late Mr M H O'Brien. The deceased young lady which had been indisposed for some time, was of a charming disposition, and highly accomplished. Her death is deeply regretted by all who knew her, and the greatest sympathy is extended to her family in their bereavement. Her brother, Mr D P O'Brien, is secretary to the Farmers' Union. The funeral which took place yesterday to Mount St. Lawrence Cemetery was of very big dimensions, testifying to the wide-spread sympathy which is felt with the family in their bereavement.

THE MOON IN A BUCKET.

Wiltshire folk are called Moonrakers, and one explanation of the nickname is that, seeing the reflection of the moon in a lake, and imagining that the moon was actually there, they took rakes and tried to rake it out. A quaint story of a similar sort is told of a Chinaman. One beautiful moonlight night, the Chinese story goes, a villager went to draw water out of a well. On seeing the reflection of the moon in the water he exclaimed, "My word, this is serious. The moon has fallen!" Without another thought he set himself the task of rescuing the moon from its predicament. He emptied one pail after another as fast as he could, but still to no purpose. At length he became so exhausted that he fell on his back. As he now caught sight of the moon, he exclaimed, "The moon is safe."
