money. What more did they want when they got the ova for nothing? It was decided to consult Mr J. hn Davereaux, Ballinrudeary, where the hatchery is proposed to be put down.

GLIN DISTRICT SCHOOL.
At the meeting of the Irish County Councils' General Council yesterday, in Dublin, arising out of a discussion on the Local Government Bill, Councillor P. O'Flynn referred to Glin Industrial School, saying that although the Borough of Limerick was the second largest contributor to the School, there was no representative of it on the governing body. Ald. Walsh supported Mr O'Flynn's view, and it was agreed that the Limerick delegates should forward in writing to the Secretary (Mr Keogh Nolan) their recommendations, to be put before the Minister in charge of the Bill. The Chairman said this would be fully dealt with and discussed when the Bill came before the Oireachtas.

CATTLE STEALING CHARGE.
Arrest at Charleville.
The Civil Guard at Charleville arrested a man named John Lyons, of the Turrets, Charleville, in connection with the larceny of four calves from a farmer named Geary, residing near Rathkeale. The accused was taken under escort to Rathkeale, brought before a Peace Commissioner, and charged with the offence. The Commissioner remanded the accused to the next District Court in Rathkeale, and he was subsequently removed in custody to Limerick County Gaol.

FISHING INDUSTRY.
Organised Development Scheme.
The recently established Irish National Fishermen's Association, organised to build and develop on a business basis the country's fishing industry, has now virtually completed a scheme which is simply financed, the object of which is to extend and stimulate the industry, and introduce fish to the markets of the world. Full details of the scheme will be announced in a short time. In the meantime the fishing centres in the country are to be organised, and organisers will be sent to assist local men in every way possible. The Association realises that the possibilities of the fishing industry may be lost through neglect or secured by up-to-date business methods.

CHARGE OF HAY BURNING.
At a special Court held by Alderman J. Casey, P.C., in William Street Civil Guard Station on Tuesday evening, James Kennedy was charged with burning a considerable quantity of hay the property of his brother, a farmer living at Ballyneety. The accused was on the application of Inspector Desmond remanded in custody to the next District Court to be held at Ballyneety.

APPLICATIONS FOR INCREASE OF SALARY.
The General Purposes Committee of the County Council at a recent meeting had applications before them from some of the officials for an increase of salary. In two cases the Committee recommended an increase but adjourned three other applications. Ratification of the increases recommended will come before the Council at its next meeting, but will be subject to approval by the Ministry for Local Government.

THE BOHERBUOY BAND.
At a meeting of the Citizens Committee held in Cruise's Hotel, the Rev Fr Dwane, A.M., presiding, it was decided to make an appeal to the public to cover the expenses entailed by the Boherbuoy Brass and Reed Band on the occasion of their visit to Dublin to take part in the Bands competition connected with the Tailteann games. The Committee feel that the members of the Band, who have brought credit to the city by securing second place in the competition, should not be allowed to suffer any loss by their visit to the Metropolis, and as there is a shortage in the amount subscribed it was decided to ask the citizens to make good the deficit. In order to supplement any subscriptions that may be sent in the Committee undertook to initiate a flag day collection in the city, and Father Dwane has very thoughtfully offered to do his part by organising a whistle drive.

WORKMEN'S HOUSES.
TO THE EDITOR OF THE LIMERICK CHRONICLE.
SIR,—Will you allow me space for a few remarks regarding the letting of the workmen's houses in Mulgrave-street. There are four pensionable officials—one Asylum and three Post Office officials—declared tenants. Would it not be better and more honest if the Borough Councils and the Government built houses and give pensions to those hard-worked men, and let us, the ordinary workers of the country, get the houses already building?

FINED FOR SHEBEENING.
At Newport District Sessions yesterday, before Mr J. M. Flood, District Justice, a man named Carey was fined 40s and costs on a charge of the illicit sale of drink. The prosecution was at the instance of Sergeant Doyle, Rear-constable, who stated that he visited the defendant's house on the 7th instant, and in the course of a search found a quantity of stout, beer, and spirits.

BORN AND DIED IN WORKHOUSE.
James Wilkinson, aged 78 years, has died in the Cork County Home. He was born in Kinsale Workhouse in July, 1846, and four years ago re-entered the Workhouse, where he remained until he was transferred to the Cork County Home, when Kinsale Workhouse was taken over by the State.

DEATH OF MR E. H. COLLOPY.
The death, which we regret to have to record, took place suddenly this morning at his residence, Pery Square, of Mr Edward H. Collopy. The deceased, who was in middle life, was at business yesterday, and retired to rest last night apparently in his usual health, but was alone in the house, his wife and child being away on a holiday. This morning, not coming down to business, a messenger was sent to his house, and failing to get a reply to his knocking at the door he acquainted the Civil Guard station at William street. Subsequently he returned to the house with Sergeants Ruane and O'Rielly, who forced the door, and on examining the rooms found Mr Collopy lying dead in bed in one of them. The deceased had apparently passed away in his sleep. He was for a number of years in charge of the oil and colour department at Messrs J. P. Evans and Co., and when that firm recently went into liquidation, he started business in the Sarsfield street side of the establishment, with Mr S. Johnston. The late Mr Collopy was brother of Mr George Collopy, Dublin, the old Irish International Rugby player, and uncle of Mr W. Collopy, Beattie Rangers, last year's captain of the Irish Rugby team. He was a very amiable and kindly man, and his untimely death will be learned with much sorrow in the city, where he lived all his life. In the great loss that has befallen them, the sympathy of the citizens will be extended to his wife and little daughter.

THE UNWRITTEN LAW OF THE BAR.
The question whether a Counsel should appear in court without a solicitor was raised again in the Dublin District Court. Mr E. H. Burne, solicitor, said that he had written on the subject to Mr Russell, Secretary of the Bar Council, and had received the following reply:—
"There is no written rule on the subject you refer to, but it is a question of the unwritten law of the Bar that Counsel should not appear in any Court unless attended by the solicitor who instructs him or his assistant; and any Counsel who makes a practice of appearing alone would be severely censured by the Bar Council."
The letter went on to say that it was Mr Burne's duty to forward the names of any Counsel who might appear alone, so that the Council might deal with the matter.
Mr Cooper, the magistrate, said that, in his opinion, the matter was entirely between the members of the Bar and the Bar Council. He could not reinstate any Counsel who appeared without his solicitor the right of audience. It was a matter for the council to report the solicitor.
Mr Burne said that his worship was an old member of the Bar, and it was said that "once a member of the Bar, always a member of the Bar," and it would be his duty for the protection of the Bar to stop the practice.
Mr Cooper—I will not exclude any member of the Bar from appearing in this Court, even though he may violate the rules of the Council.
Mr Burne—That is your considered view?
Mr Cooper—Yes.

FREE STATE EXCHEQUER RETURNS.
The Free State revenue during the week ending September 20th amounted to £712,048, as compared with £311,984 in the previous week, an increase of £400,064. The total Customs contributed £142,000, as compared with £146,000 in the previous week; Excise, £380,000 (as compared with £385,000); income tax, £146,000, compared with £82,000; and estate duties, £17,000, as against £13,000. Other sources of revenue are almost unchanged. The total receipts into the Exchequer to date amount to £13,002,313, compared with the previous total of £12,285,265, an increase of £717,048, the revenue total being increased by an extra £5,000 from Savings Certificates.
On the expenditure side, the disbursements for supply and Central Fund services amounted to £46,291, compared with £51,065 in the previous week, the total to September 20 being £9,870,477, as compared with £9,623,183 up to September 13. Total issues out of the Exchequer have not been increased by "other issues," which remain the same, making the total £10,716,477. The balance in the Exchequer is rising, and now stands at £5,680,348, an increase of £669,954.
It is evident that the Minister of Finance is bent on dressing the window well at the close of the half-year next week. His estimate of tax and non-tax revenue for the year was £27,687,300, and of this sum he has already gathered in £11,273,500, and his "experimental tariff" may be said to be only coming into operation.

DEATH OF MRS E. V. DEWAR
It is with deep regret we announce the death of Mrs Eileen Violet Dewar, which took place on Monday at a nursing home in Cork. The deceased lady was wife of Rear-Admiral R. G. D. Dewar, and daughter of Mr and Mrs T. D. Atkinson, Glenwilliam Castle, Ballingarry, Co. Limerick. She was a lady of a bright and attractive manner, and in the County and City of Limerick, where she was well-known for her kindness and generosity, her demise in the prime of life is very keenly regretted. She was a popular figure at county social reunions, and her charm of personality was not the least of her many amiable qualities. Deep sympathy is felt for her husband in his bereavement, and to Mr and Mrs Atkinson sincere condolences is tendered in the loss of an affectionate and loving daughter. The funeral, which was private, took place yesterday, the interment being at Ballingarry.

CORK BARLEY FOR ENGLAND.
The "Star" says that a good deal of Cork-grown barley is likely to find its way to England this season, and it is anticipated that heavy consignments of the cereal will be shipped during the ensuing three months from Cork Harbour. Correspondence has been taking place between a number of British barley-buyers and a farmers' association in a great barley-growing district in County Cork. The question of having purchasing agents for the barley sent over from England by the corn-buying firms has been considered, and the scheme is in a fair way towards being adopted before the barley-buying season opens.

REPUBLIC WOULD NOT BE TOLERATED
Addressing a meeting convened by the Stratford and Upton Conservative and Unionist Association in Stratford Town Hall, London, last night, Mr J. D. Cassels, K.C., M.P., made a brief reference to the Irish boundary question, and expressed the hope that it would be amicably settled. In any event, he said, the people of the British Empire would never tolerate a Republic at its very heart.
