

ESSRS GOODWIN AND COMPANY.

Branch Establishment Opening To-morrow.

The old established firm of Messrs Goodwin and Company, glass and china merchants, William Street, are, as may be seen by advertisement, moving their branch house at the corner of William Street and O'Connell Street to-morrow. In order to meet the requirements of their steadily increasing trade the firm some months ago secured these commodious premises. Since then they have been in the hands of contractors. The work of thorough renovation has just been completed, and the premises are now brought up to date, and are a credit to the city as well as to local enterprise. The entire presents a very artistic and bright appearance. There is a very handsome polished teak frontage, with wood cases and on counters, which are of hoganey, with ebonised finish, while the fixtures include a novel patent especially adapted for goods on view. The basement has been remodelled for the business of a bargain department, and here, too, the public will find displayed a large assortment of fancy and useful articles pertaining to the trade. The whole premises are amply heated by radiators and lighted with electric lamps.

The entire work, extensive as it is, has been carried out entirely by local labour. The architect is Mr Bryan F. Sheehy, M.S.A.; the contractor is T. H. Bramall, of the Thomond Joinery Works; the painting has been carried out by Messrs J. McNamara and Son, 58 Catherine Street; the electric lighting system has been carried out by Mr Joseph Portley, O'Connell Street, and the central heating by Mr T. Hassett, O'Connell Street.

With this important addition to their old warehouse Messrs Goodwin and Company are now in a position to cater fully not only for high-class orders, but also for the medium trade, this firm being the largest buyers of glass and china, and therefore in a position to compete with any other firm in Ireland. The public will do well to pay Messrs Goodwin's new branch premises a visit, and they will find at their disposal a splendid assortment of goods from which to make a selection at moderate prices.

FREE STATE BY-ELECTIONS.

Two Republican Gains.

Two of the three by-elections which took place Tuesday in the Free State have resulted in gains for the Republican Party. The figures for the Dublin City, which were announced yesterday afternoon, show that only 42.75 per cent of the total electorate went to the poll, while in the Mayo the number of abstentions was also high, as only 52.84 per cent of the voters exercised their franchise.

South Dublin.

James Lemass (Republican)	17,297
James Hughes (Cumann na nGaedheal)	16,340
Majority	957
PREVIOUS RESULTS.
Mara (Cumann na nG.)	17,193
James (R.)	13,042
Majority	4,151
James (Cumann na nG.)	22,896
James (R.)	11,737

DEATH OF CARDINAL LOGUE.

A National Loss.

Sorrow, not confined to his own Church, but shared by all men of goodwill in Ireland, will be quickened by the news that Cardinal Logue, Roman Catholic Archbishop of Armagh and Primate of All Ireland, is no more. On Tuesday morning he celebrated Mass in St Patrick's Cathedral, Armagh, with whose restoration his name and efforts are inseparably linked. At six o'clock on that evening he made his usual visit to the Blessed Sacrament. Two hours later he was taken ill, and at six o'clock yesterday morning he died of heart failure at his residence "Arc Coeli."

Cardinal Logue was in his eighty-fifth year. His health for some months had been feeble, but his energy of mind and spirit had sustained him, and his heart was in his life's work to the end. His medical attendant, Dr Kerr, Armagh, was with him during his last illness, and he received the last Sacraments from the Very Rev J Campbell, O.M., President of St Patrick's College, Armagh.

The late Cardinal was writes the "Irish Times" master of a quiet and very pleasant humour, which played with something of the magic of a sunbeam through his speeches, even on the weightiest occasions. It was typical; it sprang from kindness of heart, and it awakened kindness in all who heard it. It was at once his own charm and his passport to the hearts of men. He leaves the memory of a Churchman who combined with broad and tolerant views, and with unflinching charity, rare fearlessness in uttering the whole truth that stirred him. This blend of humour, tolerance and frank speech was the keynote of the man.

His Eminence, who was a native of Carrigart, County Donegal, was born in 1839, and had consequently completed his 85th year. He has been Catholic Primate of All-Ireland since 1887.

Messages of condolence have been received from all parts of the country, and from President O'Grave, the Governor General, the Moderator of the General Assembly, and several Catholic Archbishops and Bishops, and representatives of public bodies.

Sympathy from Limerick.

Last night the Bishop Most Rev Dr Keane sent the following message to the Archbishop of Atlanta, Dundalk:—"Joined by private and people here in expression of profound sorrow for the loss of a great Cardinal, who filled so large a space in the life of the Irish Church and Irish Nation. Requiescat in Pace."

The following is a copy of a telegram sent by the Mayor and Town Clerk of Limerick to-day:—"To Most Rev Dr O'Donnell, Coadjutor Archbishop, Armagh."

"Limerick deploras the passing of an exalted Churchman and her most illustrious honorary citizen.—R. W. DE COURCY, Mayor; W. M. NOLAN, Town Clerk."

Limerick and the Late Cardinal Logue.

News of the death of Cardinal Logue was received in the city with profound sorrow by the people. The death of the Cardinal removes from the roll of Honorary Freemen of the city one of its oldest recipients. His Eminence visited Limerick on several occasions, and on the 14th June, 1894, during the Mayoralty of Mr Bryan O'Donnell, the Freedom of the City was unanimously voted to him. On the 22nd of that month he visited the city and signed the roll of Honorary Burgesses. His visit on the occasion was in connection with the Consecration of St John's Cathedral. His Eminence was also present at the Consecration of the Church of Mount St Alphonsus, some twenty-three years ago, and on that occasion the sermon was preached by the then Bishop of Raphoe, Most Rev Dr O'Donnell, now Coadjutor Archbishop of Armagh. The Cardinal's last visit to Limerick was in August, 1917, when he presided in the Cathedral at the obsequies of the Most Rev Dr O'Dwyer.

LATEST NEWS.

TO-DAY'S TELEGRAMS.

(SPECIAL TO THE CHRONICLE.)

THE CORK ELECTIONS.

No Declaration of Poll Before Midnight.

The result of the by-elections in Cork City and East Cork will not, says a telephone message received at 5.30 this evening, be declared before midnight.

This morning the scrutineers began by the checking of the postal votes, and this process was carried on simultaneously with the checking of the ordinary boxes, of which there is a considerable number.

The actual count did not commence this evening until five o'clock, and will be continued during the night.

The general opinion in Cork is that Mr Egan, the Treaty candidate, will be returned easily, and that Mr Noonan, who also stands in the Treaty interest, will be elected.

ENGLISH TEACHERS' SALARIES.

The Education Committee's Association to-day considered privately in London the position which has arisen regarding teachers' salaries.

A later telegram says—The Association, representing 318 local authorities in England and Wales, decided by an overwhelming majority that the question of teachers' salaries be referred to arbitration, only eight voting against the resolution.

The President said the teachers frankly refused to go beyond a 5 per cent reduction, but the Association asked for a 10 per cent reduction.

COLD STORAGE EMPLOYEES ON STRIKE.

Over Unemployment of Shop Steward.

Last night the workers employed at the Cold Storage Company struck work. The Secretary of the London Docks Group of Transport and General Workers' Union, said the dispute arose over a shop steward being refused employment at a midnight call of men. The men at the whole of the wharves spontaneously stood down. The steward had always been one of the first to be taken in. Smithfield market is not affected.

THE LIVERPOOL-BLACKPOOL RAIL DISASTER.

Fireman's Evidence.

At the inquest on fourteen victims of the Liverpool-Blackpool disaster, resumed at St Anne's to-day, Frank Livingstone, fireman, said he had not noticed anything wrong with the running of the engine. He saw a few sparks at the head of the engine, and noticed nothing more until he was thrown out, and found a telegraph

PIGC

NO

We

AND

World

Call

HAVE

P

SE

CURE

STE

Ganzy (Joe)
Boot (M Culli)
No Worry (I)
Also ran—Bav
Maiden, Dinis,
Newr, Cappylasa,
Fethernale, Rogio
[Winn
Betting—6 to 4
Glas, 8 to 1 Charz
Worry, Mr Ports
20 to 1 others.
Won by a leag

C/NB

Louvan (J)
Cygdar (T B)
Longquill (R)
Also ran—Hell
Maid, Maqueda, and Coemonetta.
[Winn
Betting—2 to 1
to 1 Cygdar, 5 to 1
Jillsome, 10 to 1
Won by 3 leag
LOUG
Belay Belle
Tangle Toes
Sweet Afton