LYRIC THEATRE.

"Casey's Court."

Next week "Casey's Court," a very bright and attractive entertainment, will occupy the boards of the Lyric. It has had a very successful run at the Palace Theatre, Cork, this week, and is mainly presented by a large number of juvenile performers, possessing outstanding capabilities. The "Examiner" says, "Their contributions in vocal and instrumental features, dancing, comedy, and mirth-provoking scenes were exceedingly clever, and at each performance the building was filled to its capacity, and the entertainment was received with general approval. It was a bright, well arranged, / and appreciative production." Some of the special features included melodeon selections, representations of singing birds, a "knock about" sketch of a scene in "Casey's Court," and ventriloquial and gymnastic exhibitions, all of which were out of the beaten track and supplied thorough entertainment, interest, humour, and enjoyment for both audiences. A very enjoyable production may be predicted at the Lyric with the opening performance on Monday next at 7 and 9 p.m.

CITY CENTENARIAN'S DEATH.

Born in 1824, the death has taken place at Old Frances Street, Limerick, of Mr Patrick Costelloe. The deceased had reached the wonderful age of 104 years, and worked many years ago as a dock and quay labourer. He enjoyed good health all through life, and in conversation, which was always bright, used to recall many startling events associated with the city. The interment took place yesterday in Mount St. Lawrence Cemetery.

LARCENY OF A BICYCLE

There was a sequel to the larceny of a bioycle in the City Court last evening, when two men named Daniel Egan and Joseph France were charged before District Justice McCann with the theft. The machine was stolen twelve months ago, and was the property of Mr T. Nix, Shannon Terrace. Detective Guard Mullen, over-hearing a conversation about the bicycle, promptly instituted enquirles, and a week ago traced the theft to the accused. At the Court proceedings Egan was sentenced to a month's imprisonment, and France, who played the minor role in the trinsaction, was bound to the peace for twelve months. Two others named Marcella and O'Loughlin, charged with receiving, were also bound over and directed to pay 30s, each.
