

are Appeal Case.

K.C. gave his decision in an appeal case heard at Kilrush Circuit Court. O'Dwyer, publican, appealed from a decision Gleeson at Miltown, fining her £25 and revoking her licence, because she was in possession of spirits in an Inn on which "full licence" had been paid.

The party, an analyst in the case, said that the liquid found contained 98.65 per cent. alcohol. Generally speaking, "commercial absolute" is 99.5 u.p. Generally speaking, "commercial absolute" with caramel or burnt alcohol of this kind was used to procure a licence, as it had to be obtained for the preparation of ether and other medicinal purposes. It was used in small quantities for medicinal purposes. This liquid was stronger than whiskey, but it

Would a man in Quilty, with long tongues and strong opinions on taking a glass of the "strong" whiskey?

Immediately. Anyone with a delicate taste at all would detect a strong taste, but it gives a medicinal quality. It is, otherwise, pure alcohol is mainly used for medicinal purposes, and that dealt with in correspondence with Stettin Defence argued that the District Justice was bad, under the Illicit Distillation Act, which had been construed as spirits distilled in Ireland.

It is your argument that a man with German ancestry?

That it was not his argument that the prosecution was wrong. Besides, to prove guilty knowledge on the part of the defendant should be shown, and to prove that the spirits were subject to duty.

Defence and argument, the court was satisfied that Mrs. O'Dwyer knew the "contraband" premises. But on the other hand, knowledge was immaterial; the commission of an offence was sufficient.

The funeral took place on Thursday at the family burial place at Meelick, Cratloe. The chief mourners were—Major Thomas Browning, R.A.M.C., Colonel Benjamin Winthrop Browning, C.I.E. (sons); Samuel Henry Wilson Browning, F.R.A. (grandson); Mrs Savill Nolan (grand-daughter); Captain Savill Nolan (son-in-law); Wm. B. Fitt and Mrs Fitt.

The other friends present included Captain McWhirter, James Welply, John Power, W. Goggin, Mr and Mrs Reidy, Mrs Susan Walsh, Mrs Collins.

The officiating clergy were the Archdeacon of Limerick and the Archdeacon of Killaloe. The funeral arrangements were carried out by Mr O'Shaughnessy, Kilkee.

FALL FROM A WINDOW.

Child Killed.

Mr J. S. McNejee, City Coroner, sitting without a jury, held an inquest at Barrington's Hospital, on Saturday, on Teresa O'Mara, aged three years and a half, who died in the institution yesterday from injuries received by falling from a window in 55 Clare street on Saturday night.

Mary O'Mara, 55 Clare street, grandmother of the child, who was daughter of her son Joseph O'Mara, stated she was in the kitchen, on Saturday evening last, and saw a shadow pass the window. Almost simultaneously she heard a thud, and went into the yard, where she saw the child lying on the pavement. The child was blood-stained, and was taken into the house. Subsequently the ambulance arrived, and the deceased was conveyed to Barrington's Hospital.

Dr W P Dundon, House Surgeon Barrington's Hospital, stated when the little girl arrived at the institution she was unconscious. She was suffering from fracture of the base of the skull, lacerated scalp wounds, and a compound fracture of the right arm. She died on Saturday morning, death being due to fracture of the base of the skull.

The Coroner, on the evidence submitted, recorded a verdict of death from fracture of the base of the skull, accidentally received by falling through a window.

COMMISSIONER NOT WANTED IN KILRUSH.

At the last meeting of the Kilrush Local Council Mr McNally moved that the Council should request that a paid Commissioner be appointed, on the ground that the ratepayers' money was being squandered. The motion was rejected by seven votes to three.

GRUESOME DISCOVERY NEAR KILMALLOCK.

A skeleton was found in a field at Ardstown, Kilmallock. It is believed that of a man of about six feet, with bones and teeth in lower jaw still intact. It lay immediately under the surface, but which is a quarry. When the operations of the latter were being extended the skeleton was removed and the discovery made. It is not known how long it has been there, what the reasons could have been for its not being buried in the graveyard fifty years ago instead of the top of a quarry.
