

estions are, therefore, as the Mayor Wednesday night's meeting, worthy consideration of the Borough

The Government plans provide for use under normal conditions of 43 per cent of the existing 24 hours daily supply, or 10 million gallons per diem in dry weather.

But Mr Peacocke refers to the fact, generally known, that the turbines are capable of delivering 10 million gallons every twenty-four hours, and points out that the new electric pumps to be erected at Clareville and the reservoir at Clare should be quite as powerful. He also makes the suggestion that there should be made for a daily supply of 10 million gallons in twelve instead of twenty-four hours, thus avoiding night work.

As to this the City Surveyor says information is forthcoming as to what is available when the Shannon Scheme is fully developed. In such circumstances, he said, safe to assume there is "no longer water for the turbines," therefore for the greater portion of the year the electric motors and pumps must be entirely relied upon. This brings up the question of pressure, which is undoubtedly needed to be increased in the lower parts of the city. Mr Peacocke's opinion is that it might be advisable to erect a reservoir at Clareville and the reservoir at Clare (to be supplied from the Shannon head race), in the Clare hills at an elevation of over 400 feet above the Newcastle. This scheme would, of course, be to the advantage to the city in increasing the water pressure, but the chief difficulty would be that which the Corporation finances cannot be in a position to shoulder, and the question is how far the Government can be prepared to assist this new development. At all events, this phase of the matter has been postponed for the present. The Corporation has decided to employ at the expense of the Ministry for Public Works and Commerce, an expert to

The Chairman agreed that the list was a very mixed and diversified one. It contained the names of persons convicted and imprisoned for Bank raids and murder. There was one case of a man convicted for attempted murder of a Civil Guard, who was a peace officer. Could, he asked, any decent Irishman condone an attempt to murder a peace officer. There were some instances in which there was conviction for purely political offences, and which they could ask to have released.

Mr O'Brien seconded the resolution. Mr Cahill proposed as an amendment that they call for the release of all prisoners convicted purely on political grounds, and asked the Free State Government to use its influence with the British and Northern Governments for their release.

Mr Colbert accepted the resolution, which was passed nem con.

DEATH OF REV. D. TIERNEY, C.S.S.R.

The death took place yesterday at the Sisters of Charity Hospital, North Brook Road, Dublin, of the Rev. Daniel Tierney, C.S.S.R. Born in Dublin in June 1857, he was professed in October, 1899, for the Redemptorist Order, and was ordained Priest five years later, at the Redemptorist House, Teignmouth, Devon. From 1893 to 1904 he was director of the Arch-confraternity of the Holy Family, Mount St. Alphonsus, Limerick. A zealous clergyman, and of a most kindly disposition, he was very popular, and after leaving Limerick he gave missions in every part of Ireland, as well as in the principal cities in England and Scotland. At the time of his lamented demise the rev. gentleman was attached to the Redemptorist House, Rathgar, Dublin. He had been ailing for more than two years, and the end came peacefully.

The remains reached Limerick by the 1.30 p.m. train to-day. They were accompanied by the Rev. Brendan Treacy, C.S.S.R., and on their arrival were met at the railway station by a large number of citizens, who included members of the Corporation and Arch-Confraternity of the Holy Family. The clergy at the station from Mount St. Alphonsus Monastery were the Rev. Fr. Fitzgerald, C.S.S.R. (Provincial); Rev. Fr. Coogan, C.S.S.R. (Rector); Rev. Fr. Regan, C.S.S.R.; Rev. Fr. Hickey, C.S.S.R.; and Rev. Fr. McLoughlin, C.S.S.R. (Director of the Arch-Confraternity).

The remains were conveyed to Mount St. Alphonsus and deposited in the Chapel of Our Lady of Perpetual Succour.

The interment will take place on Monday in the crypt of the sacred edifice after Office and High Mass at 11 o'clock.

ZENANA MISSION.

Presbyterian Church.

The annual Sale of Work in aid of the Zenana Mission is being held this afternoon in the hall of the Presbyterian Church, Lower Mallow-street, and will be continued to ten o'clock to-night. As usual, there is a very attractive display of plain and fancy work and numerous other articles, including tempting cakes and sweets. The Flower ment. He denied emphatic any coal from the cart.

Christopher Doran stated seen Wallace carting the coal defendant did not throw an

Mr Flood said the Guaranty very positive in seeing Wallace the coal. As the defendant excellent character from his Limerick Steamship Company order him to pay 2s, value of to come up for judgment if

An old woman named Kate a young man, David Crawford with the larceny of a donkey property of Jeremiah Collins the Shannon Scheme works.

Defendants were ordered compensation, and the animal Mrs Quilligan caused larceny if she would be paid anything of the animals since they possession.

John O'Donoghue, city Killeen, farmer, Doonbeg, with the larceny of 21 sheep of Charles S. McMahon Superintendent O'Reilly Mr M. Tynan, solr., appeared and Mr Canty Bourke, solr.

Charles S. Mahon, V Ennis, stated that on Monday he purchased sixteen sheep from the Sheriff at Ennis. He sent the sheep to Ennis by an employe. The stock from "Cunningham to Cunningham. The freightage was Witness was in Limerick or and visited the Paddocks where he saw some sheep which as his property. He valued £42. Killeen or Donoghue to take the sheep.

In cross-examination, with his son asked him to take a but later Mr Killeen refused gave back the £5. The witness to value the sheep, £20, and the Sheriff said that valuation, which he did

Patrick Cunningham, Ennis, gave evidence as animals to Ennis station them to Limerick on the 11 he visited the Paddocks, and identified twenty of the sheep victualler's slaughterhouse sheep, as that of his employe

John Shannon, porter, Railways, Limerick, gave evidence two defendants and another him at the railway station him the number of the wag