

ments between 8 and 9 o'clock.
Supt. Hayden—Where do the visitors come from?

The Applicant—Principally Limerick.
Supt. Gaffney told the Justice that Castlemell was one of the beauty spots consistent to the city, and was the rendezvous of a large number of people during the holidays.

The Justice—Are the people from Lime-bona-fide travellers?
Supt. Gaffney—Yes.

Daniel O'Shea, giving evidence in behalf of the applicants, stated that the Castlemell train for Limerick left on Sunday mornings at 8.55 o'clock.

Sergeant Nolan stated that the authorities objected to the substitution order to
of the applicants, because it was responsible for a good deal of drunkenness in Limerick. The drunkenness was invariably accompanied by disorderly conduct.
A number of the visitors to the village came to Limerick by bus, arriving between 6 and 7 o'clock. Many of them were half drunk, and others wholly drunk, and by the time 9 o'clock came they behaved like wild animals about the village.

The Justice—Have there been any prosecutions?

The Sergeant—In 1926 there were three cases of drunkenness, in 1927 one, 1928 four,
and 1929 twelve.

The Justice—How many for Sunday drunkenness?

The Witness—One of the twelve, in respect of Sunday drinking.

In reply to Mr Tynan, the Sergeant stated he could not say anything against the prohibition scheme workers.

The Justice—If I make an order now would you come in during the summer to see it revoked if you found it necessary?

Supt. Hayden—No, sir. The order stands for the season.

The Justice said he would grant the applications, as he was confident the sergeant would see that any contravention of the order would be seen to by the Civic Guards.

FUNERAL OF MR C. E. GERAGHTY.

The remains of the late Mr Charles E.
Geraghty, Director and Secretary of Messrs J. Quin and Co., Ltd., were interred yesterday in Mount St. Laurence Cemetery after Requiem High Mass in St. Munchin's Church, the celebrant being his brother, the Rev Michael Geraghty, attached to the English Mission. At the close of the service the funeral left, and was of large proportions and representative of every interest in the city, as well as of the County Limerick and the North Riding of Tipperary.

The chief mourners were—Masters Michael and Clement Geraghty, sons; Rev. M.
Geraghty, brother; Messrs Alec, Louis, and Harry Nestor, Denis Broderick, and William Ebrill, brothers-in-law; C. Powell, Nenagh, nephew, and J. Murphy, and other relatives.

The firm of Messrs John Quin and Co., Ltd, was represented in the cortege by Mr James Quin, Managing Director; Captain R. B. Quin and Mr J. O'Sullivan, Directors, and the staff.

Father Geraghty officiated at the graveside.

DEATH OF MR C. KEOGH, CO. COUNCILLOR.

The death took place on Tuesday last at his residence, Rockfarm, Ballybrood, Co.
Limerick, of Mr Cornelius Keogh, County Councillor, after a long illness. He had been identified with local public life for many years, was a member of the old Limerick Board of Guardians, for a time
Chairman of Limerick No. 1 Rural District Council, and a member of the County body, and of the Board of Health. He was highly esteemed by his colleagues, and very popular.
He farmed extensively, and belonged to an old Co Limerick family.

Yesterday, at the County Board of Health,
Mr M. Ryan, Co. C, Chairman, presiding,

Mr Mackey proposed the adjournment of the meeting as a mark of respect to the memory of the late Mr Keogh. This was seconded by Mr Lloyd, and adopted.

Yesterday, at the Mental Hospital Committee, the Chairman, Ald. D. Bourke, T.D, proposed a vote of condolence with the relatives of the deceased. It was seconded by Mr Blackwell, supported by Mr Faby, Mr Humphreys, Ald. McInerney, and passed.
