THE LATE COLONEL CHARLES J. O'GORMAN.

Colonel Charles J. O'Gorman, D.S.O., R.A.M.C., Marlborough Road, Glenageary, son of the late Mr Thomas O'Gorman, Buncraggy, Ennis, and brother of Mr T. A.
O'Gorman, Cahercalla, Ennis, left estate valued at £14,064 at the time of his death.
He left his household and personal effects to his wife, and the residue in trust for her for life, and then for his children or their issue in equal shares.

Colonel O'Gorman, who was aged 57, was at the siege of Kimberley and served in the Great War.

LATE MR. P. J. LYNCH'S ESTATE.

Mr Patrick J. Lynch, C.E., late of Adelaide-street, Dunlaoghaire, and formerly of 29 Clare-street and 77 St. Stephen's Green, Dublin, and Limerick, who died June 15th, 1930, left £4,788. Probate has been granted to the National City Bank.

ATTACK WITH A PITCHFORK.

For striking Michael Heelan, railway employe, of Glenbane, Emly, on the arm with a pitchfork, and threatening him on other occasions, John Maher, of the same place, was, at Tipperary, on Thursday, fined £1 and £1 costs, or four months imprisonment, with hard labour. Also he was bound to the peace for twelve months. It was stated that the assault was the result of some trouble over land.

COUNTY RATE COLLECTION.

At the meeting of Limerick Co. Council to day, the Secretary stated that the rate collection was in a very satisfactory position, as fourteen collectors had closed their warrants and twelve had yet to close, but the majority of these would have completed their warrants in a short time.

its Embassies and Legations abro-notably to those situated in the ex-A countries—a circular instructing diplorepresentatives to suggest to the Go-vements to which they are accredited th-future, when official missions or high dtaries from the one country visit the o-they should refrain from placing any wor flowers on the local war memorial or tof the Unknown Warrior.

The underlying pacifist idea is that tributes tend to maintain war memories hatred and to glorify war.

The "Daily News and Chroni-commenting on the Government's decisend the practice of laying wreaths at the shrines of foreign countries on the occ-of official visits, says:—The propos-perfectly reasonable and sensible, an-probably intended to prevent tceremonious tributes from becomin-meaningless official routine.

But what is reasonable and sensible i-invariably wise or politic. Many personot like the suggestion that the Br-Government is advertising the fact thaalready finds the laying of a wreath irksome duty.
