

Mr O'Connor pointed out that Claremorris, or any urban area, had not the benefit of bye laws under the Public Health Acts by which condemnations were made.

Mr Gilligan enquired if cattle and sheep carcasses supplied to the City Home and Hospital were subject to veterinary inspection.

Mr O'Connor said it depended on the location of the institution.

Mr P. Doyle considered that the law should be amended to embrace meat inspection in every area and district.

The Mayor suggested that the meeting should fall in with the views advanced by Mr O'Connor in order to maintain a good standard of meat inspection and of public health generally in the city.

Mr Angley proposed, and Mr P. Cusack seconded, that the scheme in operation be continued for a further period of six months, with the proviso that the Corporation bear the salary of only one veterinary inspector, as heretofore.

Mr Doyle—We have been asking for a public abattoir, and have not yet got it in the interest of the public health.

Alderman D. Bourke, T.D., remarked that the city had been very niggardly treated by the Department.

Mr O'Connor, in reply to the Mayor, said the Department would not, he believed, accept the proposal put forward.

As an amendment Mr Casey moved, and Alderman McInerney seconded, that the suggestion of Mr O'Connor be adopted.

On a division the amendment was carried by fifteen votes to eight and the resolution lost by the same voting.

THE CIVIC CARNIVAL.

Although the opening date of the Civic Carnival is a month ahead, arrangements are being energetically pushed forward by the Committee to make the event an outstanding one in the life of the city. It will be the first function of the kind held in Limerick, and while its novelty will make a strong appeal, the primary object is to try and stimulate business which has for some time past been rather depressed. During the fortnight from the 26th September, when the opening ceremony will be performed by President Cosgrave, the city will undergo a transformation, the principal shopping centres will be decorated on an elaborate scale, and flood lighting will be witnessed here for the first time. Window dressing will play a prominent part in the many sided activities of the promoters of the Carnival, which will, in addition, embrace a big round of amusements, such as a boxing tournament, hurling and football matches, and concerts.

LOAN ACCOMMODATION.

Having refused recently to advance the County Limerick Board of Health a loan of £18,000 for the repair of labourers' cottages, the Board of Health has now

The question was not further discussed.

FUNERAL OF MRS J. B. D. WAUGH.

The remains of the late Mrs J. B. D. Waugh, 73 North Circular Road, Dublin, were interred in Mount Jerome Cemetery last Saturday morning. The deceased was wife of Mr John B. D. Waugh, and resided in the capital since her retirement from business at Thomas street, in this city some years ago.

The large cortege that attended the funeral was a striking tribute to the affection and esteem in which she was held, and showed the sympathy felt for her husband and family in their bereavement.

The chief mourners were—Mr J. B. D. Waugh (husband), Miss Daisy Waugh (daughter), Dr J. R. Waugh (son), Mrs J. R. Waugh (daughter-in-law), Mr Desmond Waugh (grandson), Mr Burton Smith (brother), Miss Maisie Smith and Mrs Dean (nieces), Mrs Scott, Mrs J. H. Irwin, and Mrs S. Smith (sisters), Mrs West and Mrs W. B. Smith (sisters-in-law), Mr R. Smith, Mr Jennings, Mr Dean and Mr Cecil Dean (nephews).

Amongst the general public were—Mr R. Dreaper, Mr and Mrs G. Caird, Mr C. Corneille, Mr J. O'Neil, the Misses O'Neil, Mrs O'Dowd, Mr Liston, Miss K. Clegg, Mr P. Hopkins, Mr Hayes, Mr, Mrs and Miss Bolster, Mr Eakins, Mr Devane, Dr Smith, Mr P. McGrath, Mr W. Ferguson, Mr Eastwood, Mr Crockett Johnston, Miss B. Foley, Mr Frank Finlay, and Mr Lawson Ferguson.

Wreaths were sent by the following:—
"To darling mother, from her heart-broken husband and daughter (Daisy)"; "To darling Mum, from Jack and Tess"; "To darling grannie, from Desmond and Basil"; "To my dearest sister, from loving Abb"; "To my dearest sister, from Sue"; "To my loving sister, from May and family, with fond remembrance"; "To my loving sister, from Burton, Liz, and daughters"; "With deepest sympathy, from Ann Jane, Dick, Willie, and Jim"; "With loving remembrance, from Ellie and Bessie"; "With great sympathy, from Kathleen and Harry"; "With loving sympathy, from Mrs Dreaper and Nellie"; "With very great sympathy, from Mr and Mrs W. Ferguson"; "With deepest regret, from C. O'Shaughnessy"; "Sadly missed and ever remembered by her loving friend, Kathleen Clegg"; "With loving sympathy, from Nurse O'Neil"; "With deepest sympathy, from Mr and Mrs R. Dreaper"; "With deepest sympathy, from E. Peterson"; "Deepest sympathy, from Mr and Mrs G. Caird"; "With deepest sympathy, from Mr B. H. Hopkins"; "With deepest regret, from Violet and Gertie Shorten"; "With deepest sympathy, from Fannie."

The officiating clergy were Rev E. A. Campbell and Rev E. A. Eames.

CYCLISTS AND SPORTS REVIVAL.

that the various interests involcably administered. There surcharge in the period and w to the sum of five guineas, whic quently remitted.

The Chairman (Mr M. Rya report was the best answer to criticism directed against the ministration, although the exp the various services had run ir mately half a million sterling.

SWIMMING GALA

Under the auspices of St Job Catholic Boy Scouts the annu gala was opened at the doc evening, and proved to be a affair. This was manifest in t tendance and the interest t various events, which were with despatch. They inc rowing club races, and com junior and senior members of units in the city, all of which make for healthy rivalry, and the hold that the art of sw diving has taken on the youth

MERSEY COLLISIO

Irish Steamer Sur

Two men are believed to drowned in a collision between in the River Mersey, off New I on Tuesday night.

The steamers were the Sai Dublin, and the Mayflower, and the Saint Mungo sank, w flower had to be beached at N Two men, Thomas Barron (2 castle street, Dublin, and Pat (48), of Lower George street Dublin, were taken to hospi from effects of immersion, a Some members of the crew w Liverpool, and it is believed t men were taken on board the Kenneth, bound for Dublin.

CYCLING MISHA

About 9 o'clock on Tues Thomas Duhig was cycling passing from the Main stree to St John's street, the bicycl got into a pothole and he against the Castle. He was forehead and nose, and was at P. J. Cleary. The injuries we

PROMOTION OF TIPPERA OFFICIAL.

It is announced that Mr J for several years attached to staff in Tipperary town, has to Postmaster of Bagnalstown is a most popular official, friends in Tipperary wish hir on his well-merited promotio