were true the Matron and himself would not be fit for their positions. He did admit that the cooking left much to be desired, but to say that the meat had been destroyed in the process of cooking was a gross exaggeration—it was untrue.

Mr Colbert said that the appointment of an expert cook would not result in any interference with the kitchen staff.

Dr Irwin—That is so.

Dr Moloney said that the Matron was not aggrieved at the statements made regarding the cooking, for she had repeatedly complained as to the unsatisfactory nature of the cooking. The Matron had been doing all she could to supervise the cooking.

Dr Irwin—The Committee would be doing a good thing by appointing an expert in cooking. The position is a very responsible one, for 700 patients have to be catered for.

Chairman—And by making the appointment you are not adding to your staff, because a vacancy exists on the staff.

Mr Mitchell having spoken in support of the motion,

The Chairman declared the motion passed unanimously.

It was decided to issue an advertisement inviting applicants for the position, who are to state what salary they would expect.

DEATH OF COUNTY LIMERICK P.P.

The death, which we record with regret, has occurred in a private nursing home in Dublin of the Rev. T. Fahey, P.P., Ballybricken, Co. Limerick. He was a native of Cappawhite, and was in his 67th year. The rev. gentleman never identified himself with public affairs, devoting all his time to religious matters, and was very popular in the district, of which he was pastor for ten years. The funeral, which was largely attended by clergy and laity, took place after Office and High Mass at Ballybricken on Monday last.

At a meeting of the Wexford County Council the Chairman (Mr M. Doyle) ruled out of order as political the resolution of Sinn Fein protesting against the visit of the Prince of Wales to Belfast.
