EX-SERVICEMAN'S DEATH.

Croom Inquest.

Croom, Tuesday--Coroner Cleary held an inquest at Croom into the circumstances of the death of Michael Fitzgerald, an ex-British serviceman, aged 38, who died suddenly during the early hours of Monday.

Mrs M. Steers, Maigne View Terrace Croom, cousin, identified the remains and gave evidence of deceased staying at her house since his discharge from the army, following the Great War. Deceased retired to bed on the previous night in his usual good health, and when witness knocked at the door of his room on that morning, there was no response. On entering, witness found deceased dead in bed, as if he had expired while sleeping. He had served in France during the Great War, and received very severe wounds in the abdomen, for which he was treated subsequently in a Glasgow Hospital, where he made a marvelous recovery after his life was despaired of.
Some plates were then fitted to his stomach which was perforated with wounds.

Dr. W. Hederman, M.O., Croom, gave evidence of the nature of deceased's wounds and expressed the opinion that such largely contributed to his death, and had an effect on his heart.

A verdict of death from cardiac failure, due to the wounds, was returned, and sympathy was voted to the relatives.
