

requirements. A considerable number of auxiliary workers had, as is customary at Christmas, been recruited from the Labour Exchange. The season's postal traffic, we learn, was of normal proportions and included many monetary gifts from friends in U.S.A.

IRISH WEDDING IN LONDON.

Colonel J. P. Villiers-Stuart and Miss E. N. MacLaughlin.

The Bishop of London officiated at the wedding in the Chapel of the Savoy, Strand, London, on December 22nd, of Colonel John Patrick Villiers-Stuart, of Drum, Grand avenue, Camberley, and Miss Eileen Nora MacLaughlin, daughter of the late Colonel A. J. M. MacLaughlin, of Derryheen, Hook Heath, Woking, and Assam, and of Mrs MacLaughlin.

Miss MacLaughlin, whose paternal grandfather was rector of Doon, Co. Limerick, is great-niece of Sir Samuel Walker, who was at one time Lord Chancellor of Ireland. She was escorted by her cousin, Major Edward Murray, but was given away by her mother. She was her travelling dress of rust-red tweed, with a long coat of deep brown shaved lamb fur, collared with Kolinsky fur. Her hat of brown felt had a rust-red feather mount, and she wore a spray of red carnations. There were no bridesmaids. Colonel E. T. Shakespear acted as best man.

Among others at the ceremony were—Mrs MacLaughlin, Colonel and Mrs Arthur MacLaughlin, Mrs Shakespear, Master Richard Shakespear, Miss Clare and Miss Stella Villiers-Stuart, young daughters of the bridegroom; Mrs Edward Murray, Lady Stokes, Miss Rigby Murray, Mrs Roger Evans, Miss Martelli, Major-General and Mrs Collins, Miss Collins, Brigadier and Mrs Haining, Miss Cathcart, Mr and Mrs Harry Isaacs, Mrs A. B. Hodgson, Mr Peter Hodgson, Mr A. Bryans, Mrs Lodge, Colonel and Mrs A. E. Barstow, Colonel and Mrs Dunlop, Miss Batten, Colonel and Mme. Vanier, Mrs Harper, and Mrs P. C. Robertson.

SEA SCOUTS' RE-UNION.

At St. Mary's Hall.

There was a large attendance in St. Mary's Scout Hall last night, the occasion being the annual re-union of the City Sea Scouts. The hall was tastefully decorated and brilliantly lighted. The entertainment consisted of a vocal and instrumental programme, contributed to by the Sea Scouts, and tea was provided by the ladies' committee.

Among the guests were the Diocesan Chairman, Very Rev. Fr. Wall, the Mayor, Mr P. F. Quinlan, and Mrs Quinlan; Rev. Fr. Carroll, C.C., Diocesan Chaplain; Mr K. B. Dineen, Diocesan Commissioner; Rev. Fr. Murray, C.S.S.R.; Rev. Fr. McCarthy, C.C.; Rev. Fr. Costelloe, C.C.; Rev. Fr. O'Driscoll, O.S.A.; Rev. Fr. Hunt, O.S.A.; Mr P. J. Fitzgibbon, Diocesan Secretary; Mr J. Ryan, Mr E. D. Treacy, solr., and Mr E. Connaughton.

During the proceedings addresses were delivered by Father Wall, the Mayor, Father Costelloe, Mr Treacy, and Father Murray, entailing the work of the Sea Scout organisation.

Subsequently an illuminated address was presented to Skipper C. Hanrahan for his work on behalf of the Sea Scouts, and to which he replied.

A presentation was also made to Mate T. Daly, after which the function closed.

and should not be missed by those in quest of a creditable presentation.

OBITUARY.

Dr. J. Corboy.

The death took place at his residence, Caherconlish, on Tuesday, of Dr John Corboy, after a protracted illness. The deceased, who was in middle life, was son of the late Mr John Corboy, Grange, Boher, and was medical officer of Caherconlish dispensary district for a quarter of a century. He retired some few months ago as the result of failing health. In the discharge of the duties of his office he was painstaking and courteous to all, especially the poor. Dr Corboy was of a kindly and affable disposition, which endeared him to a wide circle of friends, who deeply regret his demise and tender sympathy to his widow and children.

Mr. John Crowe.

Mr John Crowe, senior, pig dealer, Athlunkard-street, Limerick, who attended Kilrush monthly pig fair yesterday, collapsed when writing a ticket to pay for pigs. He was immediately taken into Doyle's chemist stores, and passed away in a few minutes. A post mortem examination was held by Drs. Counihan and Daly, and a verdict of death from cardiac failure was returned at the inquest.

The demise of Mr Crowe, who was aged 63, has been heard of with deep regret in Limerick and throughout the country, where he was held in high esteem and regard, and heartfelt sympathy is expressed with his family in their bereavement. Requiem Mass will be celebrated in St. Mary's Church, Limerick, at 11 o'clock to-morrow, and the funeral takes place to Mount St. Lawrence Cemetery at 3 p.m.

Mrs. H. Norman, Rathaleale.

Mrs Hannah Norman (nee Smith), who died at Rathkeale on Xmas Day, was a native of Adare. She had been in business at Rathkeale for the past 70 years. Her husband, the late Mr Henry W. Norman, who died in 1886, was a direct descendant of John Norman, the first of the family to come to Ireland in 1649.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.

Waterford travelled to Limerick on Tuesday, and, at Roxborough Park, engaged Limerick in a friendly soccer match. A very interesting game resulted—Waterford, 4; Limerick, 0. Mr Stapleton refereed.

A verdict of death from shock and hemorrhage due to a fracture of the spine caused by a fall was returned at the inquest, at Cork, on John Curry, Mount View, Ballinlough, who was found injured near a horse-drawn car which he had been driving.
