

pay that huge sum in on costs, whereas the enefit of not more than other words, the feeder of £4 per ton in the s for the disposal of 20 n grown in the country.
pig was about 12s. It ch more employment is tion of bacon than in ereals, and under the the industry which gives ment is jeopardised for enefit of the lesser in-le, the more economical y administered method ject of the Minister in noting the use of home-t of restricting the im-rationing the quantity ongst feeders in propor-of animals to be fed.

it necessary for every s home-grown grain on l undoubtedly stimulate

Administration would uch costly than that of
as local Committees, irection of the Minister, Guard Sergeant, would on which farmers could f maize meal. A small uld be set up to draft e on such lines.
ded the motion.
greed with Mr Cussen's

posed "That we believe maize into the Free State to the farmers of the

we succeed?
You will not, but that You will to some e to those men the harm e farmers of the country.
l a critical point would produced under the new etter bacon pig. In pigs were fattened too

ings, which are deplored on every side.

An inquest was opened on Mr. P. Lynch, who died from gunshot wounds, in the South Infirmary.

After evidence of identification, Coroner W. Murphy adjourned the enquiry to a later date.

John Riordan, who received a shot through a lung, lies in a very critical condition, and slender hopes are entertained for his recovery.

---

DEATH OF MR. WILLIAM FITZGERALD

---

We regret to announce the death of an old and popular citizen, Mr William Fitzgerald, plastering contractor, which took place yesterday at his residence, 35 Athlunkard-street. Deceased, who had attained an advanced age, was one of the few surviving members of the City Labour Party which was returned after the passing of the Local Government Act, 1898, and constituted for the first time a majority of the Borough Council. Mr Fitzgerald, who represented the Abbey Ward, was a man of broad views, urbanity and courtesy, and in addition to Labour matters took a keen interest in everything appertaining to the welfare of his native city. His brother-in-law was the late Mr Geoffrey Bourke, who half a century ago was Clerk of Petty Sessions for the city. Mr Fitzgerald was in his day a member of St. Michael's Dramatic Class, taking some of the leading parts in its productions at the old Theatre Royal in Henry-street. He was a Diamond Jubilarian of the Arch-Confraternity. His passing, though not unexpected, is deeply regretted by a wide circle of friends, whose sympathies go forth to his sons, daughters, and relatives in their sorrow. The remains, which were accompanied by a large concourse, were last evening removed to St. Mary's Church. Funeral to-morrow at 3 o'clock to Mount St. Lawrence Cemetery.

---

PRICE OF BREAD IN LIMERICK.

---