

prevent any breach of the peace. The sale was conducted by a representative of the County Registrar.

The cattle were purchased at sums varying from one guinea to £5 by Mr Bennett, solicitor, on behalf of a committee of farmers sympathisers with Mr Boohan. There were two outside bidders, whose names were unknown.

The proceedings at the sale were quiet, with occasional cheers from a good-humoured crowd which had assembled outside the pound gate. Subsequently, however, when the two young men referred to were leaving on a lorry, stones, it is stated, were thrown, and the Guards charged with batons, one person in the crowd being badly cut about the head, but matters soon after quieted down.

Immediately the lorry had left, a meeting was held and was addressed by Mr G. C. Bennett, T.D., who said he would make no reference to the occurrence they had just witnessed. There was a proper time and place to ventilate that matter. He would take second place to nobody in his respect for law and order and his opinion of the Gardai generally. But he was bound to say that the scene appeared to him to be absolutely unjustified. They were there to extend to an unfortunate farmer whose cattle were seized their sympathy and assistance. The cattle were purchased not by the farmer himself, who was unable to provide the means, but by the generosity of the neighbouring farmers, who by subscriptions they could ill-afford had made up the amount of the warrant. He had held that the collection of the annuities was immoral. The Government, by the introduction of the Land Act, had added a semblance of legality to their action. It was still held that the procedure to collect arrears was illegal, and as a case was pending in another county to test its legality in the High Courts one would have thought that pending the decision in this case the Government would have refrained from taking further action. He would ask the people quietly to disperse, and he thanked them for their attendance. Continuing, he said they were determined by every legal and peaceful method to protest against the action of the Government in extracting from the farmers sums which they were unable to pay.

Lord Muskerry and others spoke, and Mr Boohan thanked the people most heartily for their kindness and sympathy, which he assured them he would never forget.

The proceedings then terminated.

SULTAN ARRIVES AT PLYMOUTH.

Ten Kettles for Washing Hands

The glamour of the East enveloped Plymouth to-day, when the Sultan of Sokoto the Emir of Gwandu, and the Emir of Kano arrived from West Africa with fifteen

The Funeral.

The funeral took place from St. Michael's Church, after Requiem Mass, yesterday morning to the family burial place, Mount St. Lawrence Cemetery. The cortege was of very large proportions, being representative of the business and professional classes as well as members of public bodies in the city. It was a striking tribute to the popularity of the deceased and the respect in which he was held, and manifested the sympathy felt for his widow and relatives in their bereavement.

The clergy present were—Rev. Fr. Harty, Adm., St. Michael's; Rev. Fr. Fitzpatrick, C.C., do.; Rev. Dr. Cowper, C.C., do.; Rev. Fr. Kelly, C.C., do.; Rev. Fr. Gubbins, S.J.; Rev. Fr. Mangan, C.S.S.R.

The chief mourners were—Mrs L. Nestor (widow), Messrs. Alec and Harry Nestor (brothers), Mrs Broderick and Mrs Geraghty (sisters), Arthur and Noel Broderick, Clement Geraghty, Gus and Bertie Nestor (nephews), Mr D. Broderick, B.A., and Mr R. Molloy (brothers-in-law), Mr Austin Kane (father-in-law), Mr Joseph Kane (uncle-in-law).

Wreaths were sent by the following:—Mrs L. Nestor, widow; Alec and family; Herbert, Isabel, and Joan; Denis, Aggie, and family; Harry, Nial, and John; Muriel, Tommy, and Denham; Joe Peacocke; Dr and Mrs Connor, Rathdowney; W. J. Bunyan, Thomas O'Brien and family; the Irish Club, and the Shannon Rowing Club.

Numerous Mass cards were sent by friends and sympathisers.

Father Harty officiated at the grave.

MR GODFREY N. BARING

We regret to announce the death of Mr Godfrey Nigel Everard Baring, which occurred, after a long illness, at Park House, Market Harborough, yesterday. The son of the late Mr Thomas Charles Baring, M.P., of High Beach, Essex, he was born in 1870, and was educated at Harrow and Oxford. Mr Baring married in 1908, the Honourable Ada Sybil, daughter of the second Baron Fermoy, and had one son and two daughters. He resided for some years at Rockbarton, County Limerick, where he took an active part in sporting, and in social life, and was a widely known and respected figure in the country. Mr Baring was Master of the Duhallow Hounds from 1896 to 1908, and Master of the Limerick Hounds from the latter year till 1922.

REV. S. L. MAXWELL.

We regret to announce the death, which took place yesterday at Ardcaney Rectory, County Limerick, of the Rev. Sydney Lurton Maxwell, B.A., who was Rector of Ardcaney and Kildimo since 1897. He had been ill for a couple of weeks, and his demise was not unexpected. Mr Maxwell, who was unmarried, was very popular with all classes and creeds in the district. The funeral arrangements appear in obituary notice.

islanders go about their daily whether it is making a potato barren limestone rock, fishing, or the basking shark. Thrill follows these exciting encounters, but the desperate nature of this work is shadowed by the tremendously scenes of a fierce south-west "boiling" sea threatening to swallow not only people but the islands. Maggie, his wife, and Michael were typical of the island folk, in their humble cottage home, built of the island, sheltered as happy as Aranmore could boast. To fight fierce fights against the and against the difficulties of livelihood from hard nature.

THE LYRIC.

"Clear All Wires"

A journalist with a nerve of complications in Moscow with the and thrills galore that are laughs, marks the latest American to reach the screen, "Clear All Wires" which will be shown on Monday and Wednesday next, with Lee irresponsible and irrepressible correspondent; Benita Hume, and James Gleeson heading the cast. Tracy steals his employment takes her from Paris to Moscow dismissed. He invades the He tries to arrange a shooting register a scoop and get his job falls into the hands of the R police. He lets himself be captured by the Riffs. He tries to get rid of blonde sirens who storm the love in vain. And finally, the woman in the lot, played by Lee marries him and reforms him—being at least. The picture with laughs, and moves with speed.

For remainder of week Mr Lila Lee take the lead in "I

THE ATHENÆUM

"Parole Girl."

Mae Clarke plays one of screen roles in "Parole Girl," presented on Mon., Tues. and is apprehended and sentenced to parole some time later, Mae cards have been stacked against her that the "road back" is no way. How she wins through in the end is the dramatic story of "Parole Girl." Ralph Bellamy is the lead in the production, which also features the names of Prevost and Hale Hamilton among the prominent names in the support cast. Ferdinand Gottschalk, Ernest Sam Godfrey.

Headed by Mary Brian, Richard and Donald Dillaway,

"One Year Lat

which will be shown on Thursday and Saturday, presents one of the best castes ever to be seen