

their annual meetings pass quickly, and the days are now only a come. Let us hope will prove all that is The prospects of a season are bright, section it may be publication of a handy vents, compiled by the ciation, will serve to ny interesting National at are in front of us, along be of interest to to tourists as well. It here that the annual the general meeting of ociation, held in Dublin y satisfactory record of re past decade of the icity has played a very cessful part in the work and the fact is empha- ing is its most effective is everyone knows, the al papers are the best all classes, and there was ing public than there is ropaganda work in the of various kinds apper- is essential, especially in nd this side of the Asso- is illustrated by the publications that have as often been said that ndustry is an important capable of much greater s it is, the figures as to lly encouraging. "The y," states the report. ds all phases of re presented in the past nditure throughout the Cabinet S. b-Committee who are examining his proposals for dealing with unemployment. Further meetings will be held to consider the "new deal" policy.

FIRE ON A LINER

About to be Launched.

A fire broke out last night in the Brocklebank liner Marwarri, which was to have been launched at Port Glasgow tomorrow. Firemen and workmen fought the blaze throughout the night, but the ship was still burning to-day.

BRITISH-GERMAN NAVAL TALKS POSTPONED.

The naval conversations in London between the British and German Governments have been postponed until after Hitler has made his announcement on Germany's foreign policy about the middle of May.

DEATH OF MRS. M. DUNDON, BARNAKYLE.

A wide circle of friends in city and county have learned with regret of the death of Mrs M. Dundon, widow of Mr Thomas Dundon, which occurred at her residence, Barnakyle House, Patrickswell, on Sunday last. She was mother of Mr J. J. Dundon, Chief Veterinary Inspector, and Dr. W. P. Dundon, both of this city, and was very highly esteemed for her kindly and hospitable disposition. She was a member of two respected Limerick and Clare families, being a sister of Mr Patrick O'Halloran, Mount Allen, O'Callaghan's Mills, where she was born. The funeral, which took place at the Dundon family burial place at Clounanna to-day, was large and representative.

COMING THOMOND FEIS.

he acted on a commit Court for the mana affairs. He always fou gentleman. The instit would be the poorer for Mr M'Grady said which the hospital was most eloquent tribute to Dr. Nolan.

Mr Martin said the pending departure file regret.

M Flinn joined in th Dr. Nolan, replying, never thank the Com they had done for his things they had said his heart he thanked th

ARCHBISHOP MINSTER EN

The Pope's Pleac Peac

With impressive cer Dr. Arthur Hinsley throned at Westminster bishop of Westminster, late Cardinal Bourne. congregation.

In his allocution, th after paying a tribute Cardinal Bourne, said hope and encouragem brought from Rome Pontiff's cry for peace.

This was the impas Pope for a world whic by war, and by the rui national jealousies and

The Catholic Church iniquitous war as disa yet recognised the "We must, however," "insiat that the effor economists are vain to there be a turning to God. The world can of Christ" Their hou Catholic Action, and was missionary action.

THE KING'S