

of a contributory cause to the increased cost of living. Certain it is that taxes on the necessaries of life are to a lower standard of living in the country, and business people themselves that there is in consequence a limiting power, which in the circumstances is not to be wondered at.

GOLDEN WEDDING

of Earl and Countess of Dunraven.

gratulations from all over the country being received by the Earl and Countess of Dunraven, who are at present in residence at the Manor, on the celebration of their golden wedding, which occurs to-morrow (Friday). The actual celebration will not, however, occur till the 20th of July, when the celebrations, local and otherwise, will be at the Manor, and later on a similar occasion will take place at his Lordship's seat, Dunraven Castle, Bridgend. Lord Dunraven, who succeeded his cousin, the 11th Earl, in 1926, has, since with the Countess, who is a daughter of the sixth Duke of Mayo, constantly resided at Adare. Both are very popular. They have two sons and one heir, Viscount Adare, and one daughter, Lady Olein Wyndham Quin. Lord Dunraven takes a deep interest in agriculture, particularly in the raising of pedigree cattle, and is an exhibitor at the County Fair and other Shows. He has been the president of the Limerick Horse Show for some years past, and, with him, the Countess takes an active part in supporting charitable and other social work in the county.

PROPLANES AND BLOODHOUNDS.

On the Warpath.

Proplanes and bloodhounds are being gained to-day in the search for the man whose glaring eyes, believed to answer the question of the man who attacked three

One Hundred Men in Lodging-house Rescued.

Fireman Falls Into Blazing Wreckage.

A rag factory, a church army lodging-house, a timber yard, and garage, were involved in a fire at Bristol to-day.

One hundred men sleeping in the lodging-house were got out just in time.

Sixty motor cars were run out of the garage.

A fireman who fell thirty feet from a water tower into the blazing wreckage was rescued. He suffered severe concussion and burns.

COUNTY LIMERICK TRAGEDY

It was reported in Limerick this afternoon that John McCann, aged 40, a farmer, unmarried, residing at Castletown Conyers, Co. Limerick, was found shot dead this morning in his bedroom.

The discovery was made by his mother, aged about 70 years, with whom he lived alone. Deceased, so far as can be ascertained, did not belong to any political organisation.

Chief Superintendent Murphy, Limerick, has left for the scene of the occurrence.

LIMERICK SHIPPING

For Week Ending July 6th.

SS. The Countess, Methil, coal; ss. Henry Tegner, Raume, timber and insulite; ss. Foynes, London, general; ss. Kyle Firth, Acton Grange, coal; ss. Carnalea, Ayr, coal; ss. Turquoise, Ayr, coal; ss. Annagher, Goole, coal; ss. Tyra Bratt, Gothenburg, general; ss. Roslea, Workington, coal; ss. Carrickmacross, Glasgow, coal; ss. Kerry Head, Sunderland, coal; ss. Aranmore, replying to alterations in the Island exceptional c not living go and li family wh Island Fi extreme c permission

Mr Hat if there a tenants in to live in t

Manager over, and tion order houses to time ago. Officer of houses, in there were

Mr Bou occupied?

Mayor-tion of our Minister, mning us th When the three weel the houses

The disc

CONDITIO

Replyin regarding ways in va

Manager question w

Council co tended ho

taking ov putting th at the earl

Mr Sha the Park was impas

was time t attention

payers livi

The mat

On the p by Ald. M