

Death of Cornelius J. Carey

The deepest sympathy is felt with Mr O G Carey, his wife and family, Prospect Villa, on the demise at Harrington's Hospital of his dearly beloved son, C J Carey, after a brief illness. Deceased was a young lad of bright and promising intelligence, and was beloved by his companions in school and ordinary social circles.

The remains were removed to St Michael's Church last night, followed by a large concourse of relatives and friends, members of the Mechanic's Institute, etc.

The funeral to-day to Mr St Lawrence was very largely attended.
