Death of ex-R.I.C. Inspector

Mr P. McEntee (74), an ex-District Inspector of the R.I.C., has died in Dublin. He had served for a period in Bruff, County Limerick.

On the night of the 20th July. On her return the interior of the car was strewn with glass, which appeared to have been broken with a stone.

An award was made for the amount claimed.

This concluded the list, and his lordship remarked that ratepayers of the city had to pay for the acts of bootlegging which had occurred last July in their midst.

Death of Mr J. H. Enright

The death occurred in the Co. Infirmary on Monday morning of Mr J. H. Enright, New Street, in his 74th year, after a week's illness. The deceased for many years carried on the business of money lending in the city, and was a man of a very kindly and charitable disposition. He was a very genial companion, considerate in all his dealings, and helpful in social affairs. Mr Enright was a diamond jubilee member of the Arch-Confraternity, and one of the oldest members of the Catholic Literary Institute, in which he evinced a deep interest. He was widely read, a good debater, and by his demise another well-known and popular figure passes out. In her sorrow sympathy will be extended to his widow and also to his nephew, Mr Garry Kelleher.
