

Late Rev J Kelly, C.C.

Tribute By County Limerick Priest

Speaking at the annual Mass in Scodrey Hall, F. Lynch, C.C. Kiltinan, paid eloquent tribute to the memory of the late Rev J Kelly, C.C. St Michael's, Limerick. He said that Father Kelly, a native of Kiltinan, was well known during the thirties, forties and years of adolescence, and was a general favourite. During his short ministry in the parishes the people of his native place did not often make in contact with him, but he said that in the places where the peasant priest laboured, he was well known of old, and he returned thanks to every one of his parishioners.
