FOR IMPROVEMENT.

Arthur's Quay.

time to time attention has been to the unsightly condition of Quay but without any appreciation for the better in making the more attractive. The roadway and all in the vicinity are most unclean, and when the tide has receded mud and filth of all descriptions are visible for a considerable distance from the base of the wall.

conditions, prevailing in the centre of the city, adjacent to one of the most important business thoroughfares, have little cause for complacency, with a distinct desire to render the quay more attractive is observable here, the responsible authorities should take some steps to have the place in a proper state of cleanliness, and to remove what constitutes a definite blot.

Visitors to our city have frequently commented on the condition of Arthur's Quay and expressed surprise that something was not done in the matter. From the Strand along the Quay—one of the most popular local walks—the quay is a blot, and it is the only blot on the otherwise one of the nicest spots in the city. It is, however, a very big blot, and an effort should at once be made to improve the conditions existing there.

DEATH OF MR. FRANK W. McCARTHY.

The death, which we regret to announce, occurred at his residence in New York on Sunday, of Mr Frank W. McCarthy after an illness of some duration. The deceased, who was in middle life, was only son of Mrs Elizabeth McCarthy, Ardara Terrace, Ennis Road, Limerick, and of the late Mr Francis McCarthy, Auctioneer, of this city. He emigrated to New York nearly thirty years ago, and was prominently connected with commercial activities in that city. Mr McCarthy was of a very lovable disposition, a bright and charming companion, and a steadfast friend. His untimely death is mourned by a wide circle of friends in the home of his adoption and by many who knew him in this city. Sincere sympathy will be extended to his wife and family and mother in the bereavement that has befallen them, and to his cousin, Mr Joe McCarthy.

INFANT'S SUDDEN DEATH.

A three month old infant, the child of Thomas Darcy, 10 Davis street, Limerick, was found dead in bed on Monday morning. The body was removed to Barrington's Hospital for the purpose of a post mortem to have the cause of death ascertained.

Following the examination, Dr. S. McDonagh, house surgeon, Barrington's Hospital issued a certificate showing that there was no evidence of external injury on the body, and death in his opinion was caused by asphyxia, due to an enlarged thymus gland.

As a result, the Coroner did not consider an inquest necessary.
