

great as at any period in the history of the organisation. The Brothers visit people in their own homes, and in that way get first-hand information of their condition. One thing is certain—namely, the charity is distributed with the utmost caution and only the deserving cases benefit. The appeal now made is one that should meet with a generous response from the citizens, who value the work of the Society.

SHANNON ROWING CLUB.

At the annual general meeting of the above, held at the splendid Club premises, Sarsfield Bridge, a very large attendance of members showed keen interest in the affairs of the Club.

Satisfaction was generally expressed at the healthy financial and social position, as disclosed by the Secretary's report, and the statement of accounts. The fact that all the acting officers and Committee were re-elected shows the confidence the members have in their representatives in the government of the Club. The following were elected:—

President, Mr. E. O'Toole; Vice-Presidents, Messrs. J. Ryan, and M. Minihan; Secretary, Mr. M. E. Hartigan; Hon Treas., Mr. P. F. Quinlan; Captain, Mr. J. K. Smith; Vice-Captain, Mr. C. N. Johnstone. Committee—Messrs. John Gleazer, F. Kavanagh, J. Clifford, J. W. Hall, G. Greaney, K. O'Brien, P. O'Dwyer, V. Quin, P. J. Donnellan, B.C.

TRAGIC DISCOVERY.

TEACHER FOUND DEAD IN BED.

Mrs. Agnes Fitzgerald (32), National teacher, mother of four children, was found dead in bed at Farranshone, Limerick, yesterday morning.

She was at school on Thursday as usual. Death was certified to be due to heart failure.

To the Editor, "Limerick Ch

Dear Sir,—May I, through the medium of your paper, draw attention to a locality which is becoming one of our popular suburbs. Just at the Dr Bridge leading to Corballis there is an angular patch of low-lying land which was cut off owing to the re-forming of the road. This has now become a stagnant pool of green-covered mud. As there is no outlet from it, it is difficult to visualise what a disagreeable, and from the health point of view, dangerous nuisance this could be in the event of a summer.

I am sure our civic authorities will only have their attention drawn to this matter to have it remedied by being filled in or drained.—Yours,
