times at home and abroad during his present term of office, and it is only reasonable for him to look forward to a respite from heavy and rather thankless public labours. His retiral would be a blow to Tory democracy, of which he is a practical exponent. Mr. Neville Chamberlain, who is supposed to have the succession in his hands, is a Conservative reactionary, who will continue to resist even beneficial changes as long as he possibly can. His Government will not have the widespread appeal of Mr. Baldwin's, and may look for grave trouble ahead from the unemployed and discontented.

DEATH OF RESPECTED CITIZEN.

Late Mr. J. Ke'ly.

We regret to announce the death, which took place at his residence, Clancy Strand, on Sunday, of Mr John Kelly.
Mr. Kelly was for many years a courteous and efficient official of the G.P.O., and in a more public sphere took an active part in the social life of the city.
He was a member of the old Limerick Operatic Society, and was also a leading violinist in the orchestra attached to St.
Michael's Temperance Society. In both activities he was untiring in his efforts to maintain Limerick's traditions for music and culture. Mr. Kelly was for many years an active and enthusiastic worker for the Irish-Ireland movement in the Gaelic League. He was a Diamond Jubilarian of the Holy Family Confraternity, and in general his personal qualities were such as to gain for him the respect and affection of his large circle of friends.
