by the great improvement which had turned clear road estimated at over the Stadium, vast home of Yankees' baseball team, quarters of its capacity before Tommy Farr, prize heavyweight champion, fighting for the greatest prize, against Joe Louis, the world champion. A large percentage of the crowd, and in the anti-racial riots, a squad of men were on duty in and stadium. Whatever the result of the black versus white battle was sure to follow. Celebrations of life occupied the ringside. A galaxy of political, social, and sporting stars were present.

10,000 GATE.
Preliminaries were begun the estimated at 240,000 dollars, plus £11,000 from film and tickets, which made the total £60,000.

THE FIGHT.
The full fifteen rounds with "Bomber," Farr confounded sports critics, who, one and a win for the negro by the fight to his man from the end, and with a series of punches Louis head had the negro had a point's lead at the end round. The third round Louis who, with a rapier-

MAN'S SUDDEN DEATH

Collapse in City Hotel

Mr. John Murphy, an employee of Messrs. Cannock & Co., Limerick, collapsed in Fox's Hotel on Wednesday night. The deceased had been living at the hotel for a number of years. For some time past he had not been in robust health, and he collapsed while walking upstairs. He was attended by Rev. Fr. Foley, O.S.A., and was subsequently removed to Barrington's Hospital. As a medical certificate was forthcoming, an inquest was not deemed necessary.

HUMAN REMAINS.

State Pathologist's View.

The remains were those of a human individual, probably a male, was the view of Dr. McGraith, State Pathologist, at an inquest at Malahide today on unidentified remains, consisting of a skull and spinal column, found in the sea at Malahide on August 9. The cause of death was not apparent but the age of deceased was probably eighteen.

At first it was believed the remains were Mrs. Ball's.
