

Michael Geognegan, a man, Co. Galway, a work- by Mr John Kenny, at one of the cyclists was a dangerous corner lead- ilfinny road to the main ther was on the straight he driver of the car, who a side of the road, when one ran into both.

received rather serious in- escaped with some minor head.

were removed to Croom al.

were rendered useless.

OVERRULE THE OBJECTION.

meeting of the Munster A.), held at Mitchelstown, ning, Mr Frank McGrath siding, on by the Waterford Co. Limerick being awarded rling Semi-final, played at he previous Sunday, was an over ruled the objection the award of the match to

M DISCOVERY.

an Found Dead With Throat Cut.

yan, of Lakeland Park, s found dead, with a deep throat, on the West Pier ghaire last evening. The made by a passer-by, who Civic Guards. The body in the Fire Brigade ambu- Michael's Hospital, where ll be held.

ing with it two men who had been en- gaged in dismantling operations.

Fortunately the men were thrown into comparatively shallow water on a mud- bank near the side of the river.

There was, however, danger that one of the men—Bernard Flanagan, of Street, Birr—would have lost his life were it not for the promptness of Mr. R. J. Kelly, State Solicitor, who was on the Corrib Club Grounds at the time of the crash, and who, fully clothed, dived into the river and assisted Flanagan from the water.

The other man who fell was Charles Devlin (23), St. John's Terrace, Galway. He went to the Central Hospital after- wards, but was not detained.

Flanagan was also brought to the Cen- tral Hospital, where he was X-rayed and found to be uninjured. He also was dis- charged.

LINER AT GALWAY.

BIG NUMBER OF PASSENGERS LANDED.

The Cunard White Star liner Laconia arrived at Galway port on Saturday evening, bringing a total of 530 passen- gers to the West of Ireland. This is the highest number landed at Galway port since the Eucharistic Congress held in Dublin, 1932. Six motor cars and mails were also taken off the liner. The cars were quickly taken off, and the liner left for Belfast on schedule at 5.30 a.m.

LIMERICK NUN'S DEATH.

The death took place in a private nur- sing home of Sister M. Natilis O'Mara, of the Sisters of Charity, Ravenswell, Bray. A native of Limerick, she was 45 years in religion, and had been attached to the Sisters of Charity, Bray, for the past 20 years.

Mr. T. C. O'Mahony, City Manager, has ment of Local Government that the an- nual State grant for the city will be £5,000.