P. Hartigan,

State of New Jersey, in the United States of America. Their father, Patrick Manion (a brother of the above-named Martin Manion, deceased) was born in the Parish of Oran, County of Roscommon, Ireland, and their mother, Mary Manion (formerly Clougher), was born in the Parish of Dysart, in Ireland.

Patrick Francis Manion is believed to have left Jersey City about the year 1900 for the Rocky Mountains in pursuit of mining. James Martin Manion is believed to have died in Jersey City prior to the year 1918.

Mary Olsen and Michael Manion were last heard of in Jersey City in the years 1911 and 1918 respectively.

THE FREE STATE CONSTITUTION.

Various rumours have been in ci-lation during the past few days as to cause of the delay in circulation of text of the new Constitution. While of this may be due to the effort made to secure that the Irish text is free from error as possible, there is gestion that unexpected difficulties cropped in regard to matters of detail. one quarter it was stated that some these were concerned with the prop-new Head of the State—that a satistory scheme for the nomination and tion of this official had not yet evolved.

It seems to be quite definite that the Irish text which will be legis-signed and submitted to the Courts reference, in the event of any cons-tional question arising. Amendment the Committee Stage in the Dail will made in the Irish language, and doubt, there will be many speeches Irish in the course of the debates.

DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE

With a view to avoiding any misur-standing in the matter, the Depart-of Agriculture desire to draw the p-cular attention of farmers and othe-interested persons to the fact that calf be eligible for bounty under this y bounty scheme must have the com-portion of the right foreleg from the joint down naturally attached.
