

City Man's Sad Death

The dead body of Patrick Hickey, aged about 69 years, was discovered on the road at Pennywell at about 4 o'clock, on Thursday morning.

It appears that the deceased man, who was a blacksmith, left his house at Pennywell the previous night to go for a short walk. His relatives, knowing that he sometimes visited a neighbour's house to play cards, were not worried until several hours passed without his return. After a search the deceased was found on a by-road and had been dead for some time. He had been complaining for some time past, and an inquest was not considered necessary.
