
Clareman's Fatal Fall

Returning home from a visit to a neighbour's house, Patrick Naughton (60), unmarried, Rocoast, Truagh, county Clare, fell twenty feet into a quarry. Attracted by his cries for help, his brother John and a neighbour extricated him. A doctor was brought but he died soon afterwards.
