

Passing of Esteemed Citizen

Death of Mr Dan Kelly, G.P.O.

The citizens received a most profound shock this (Friday) morning when it became known that Mr Dan Kelly, New street, a prominent Limerick sportsman and official of Limerick G.P.O., had passed away with tragic suddenness at his residence. The late Mr Kelly was about his business as senior clerk at the Post Office on Thursday in his usual cheerful spirits, and the shock to his colleagues of the sudden demise of one who was so highly esteemed by all, can be more readily imagined than described. The late Mr Kelly, who had 38 years service, was a fine specimen of Irish manhood, and a splendid all round sportsman. A keen golfer, he was one of the oldest and most successful players on the Limerick Golf Club grounds at Ballyclough, where his remarkable prowess won for him the leading prizes in the club's various competitions. A lover of the Rugby code, too, deceased was a robust forward with the Landowne and Young Munster Clubs, while those older amongst us will remember his capabilities with the old P.O. and Limerick Co Hockey Clubs. A perfect gentleman in every sense of the word, the late Dan Kelly will be sadly missed and mourned by many, but by none more so than his widow and family, to whom universal sympathy is extended in their poignant grief—a sympathy in which we wish to be wholeheartedly associated.
