Death of Most Rev Dr Fogarty's Brother

The death took place on Saturday of Mr Mathew Fogarty, Killoleman, Nenagh, at the age of 88 years, brother of Most Rev Dr Fogarty, Bishop of Killaloe. He was an industrious and popular member of the farming community.

There was a very large and representative gathering at the Solemn Requiem High Mass and funeral on Monday. A great many attended from Clare, while Nenagh and surrounding parishes were well represented. The funeral left at 2 o'clock for the family burial place at Knigh and bore striking testimony to the popularity and high esteem in which deceased was held, all creeds and classes of the community being in attendance.
