

Newport Man's Death

Collapse on Mountain Side

Mr Jeremiah Moloney, aged 72 years, Fiddane, Newport, was found dead on Cully Mountain on Sunday evening. It appears that deceased left his home early on Sunday to see some stacks of turf on the mountain. Later in the day Mr Thos Carr, a neighbour of deceased, visited the bog and found Mr Moloney sitting down by the side of a stack of turf. Mr Moloney did not speak to Mr Carr, who went immediately for assistance to his home, two and a half miles distant.

On returning with a number of neighbours and Rev Fr O'Brien, S.C., Newport, Mr Moloney was found dead.

Father O'Brien administered the last rites of the Catholic Church.
