

in ancient Ireland, even when the as against the people, it satisfied when they understood it was for good of the nation. If that trait re- it would enable their people to together. By co-operation he be- they could gain for themselves an important place among the of the world. He hoped An aire and young people like him be loyal to the law of the land.

DAILY ADJOURNMENT

More Talk About General Election

the order of business had been fixed in the Dail on Tuesday, Dillon (U.I., Monaghan) asked Mr O'Kelly whether the Dail was to adjourn this week.

O'Kelly—I hope so.

Dillon—Until when?

Ward (Parliamentary Secretary to Minister for Local Government)—the general election.

Dillon—Is the Parliamentary Secretary right when he says that we are to adjourn until the general elec-

O'Kelly—No.

Dillon—You had better come to- and make up your minds.

O'Kelly—If the Deputy is anxious general election we will give it to Dillon—The sooner you go out the it will be for the country and the it will be for yourselves.

Corry (F.F., Cork, E.)—We would e to lose you.

ban on holidays imposed in Ger- on the outbreak of war will be awn on January 15 next, according German wireless.

STATEMENT BY VATICAN RADIO.

Soviet Russia has drawn up black-lists of Catholics in countries throughout the world, comprising a total of some 4,000,000 names said a Vatican radio broadcast on Tuesday night.

About 2,000,000 of those listed are Germans, it was stated.

"The Slovak list includes the name of Father Tiso (the Slovak President)," the announcer said.

"The Polish list is the most complete of all, which probably accounts for the wholesale executions in the Soviet-occupied part of Poland.

There is even a Japanese list. Nothing, however, is known of a United States list, this, no doubt, being due to the clause under the Soviet-U.S. agreement, by which the Soviets promise to refrain from propaganda in the States."

DEATH OF MR. JAMES S. DOYLE, SOLICITOR.

The death occurred in a Dublin Nursing Home yesterday of Mr James S. Doyle solicitor, Limerick. The deceased, who retired from practice about six years ago, was admitted a solicitor in 1884, and enjoyed an extensive practice in the city and county. He was son of the late Mr. D. Doyle, solicitor, a prominent figure in the '48 Repeal Movement. He was a brother of the late County Court Judge Charles Doyle, and of the late Mr D. S. Doyle, Assistant Registrar-General.

ANOTHER BIG NUFFIELD GIFT.

Lord Nuffield has given a million Morris Motor shares, worth nearly £1,250,000 to create a central hospital fund for the provinces. He expresses the hope that from this fund and the King's Fund in London there will ultimately emerge a truly national service.

cure seed doing so lat

Growers curing seed favourable fact, is it r cause the sc tion. It is attempt sow but it show wheat is no respect as sowing may lighter lan reasonably Farmers sow winter ready reser are reminded it is difficu varieties. mously incr fact almost spring varie cept in ver normally h imperative immediately winter vari every possi time.

LO.

In order ditional fa agricultural that may b Compulsory for Agric issue of lo as indicated

A big st the Town ter of vote June next.