

nor unable to control men in, another road worker, rative evidence, and said was a very hard-working e the men under him work t Lynch, wife of the plain- she was not on friendly Hartigan, because he had to her since she refused to ter marry him.

ence, said if privilege had been ould have given a direction. ng—Would your lordship mission to amend the plead-

DEFENCE OF MALICE.

p—I will, but you may not cover costs. I am satisfied accede to this application ing and amend the defence. arly privilege, because the itten by a ratepayer to the il on a matter of interest to

There is no evidence of a tive, and the only sugges- the defendant had a falling plaintiff's wife twelve years circumstances I have come sion that the statements, on evidence, are subsantially will give the direction. The as I indicated when amend- ce, I will not give any costs e fact that the defence was late in the case.

WINTER WHEAT

ult of the recent improve- other conditions, farmers in f the country are busy get- d ready for winter wheat owing of the crop. For those o sow wheat there is much o favour of winter varieties; the present favourable aditions continue, there is get in a large area of the ere is no time to lose, and ounts.

ho have winter wheat seed who can still procure seed and the total amount came to £63. Mr. Danaher said he agreed to the amounts claimed, which appeared to be reasonable. Dr. T. Foley, or the defendants, said he agreed with the evidence of Dr. McDonagh. His Lordship assessed damages a £120 for Mr. Frost, and awarded Mrs. Frost £43, with 3 guineas expenses.

OBITUARY

Mr P. J. Quilligan

General regret is felt at the death, which took place on Tuesday at his residence, Mill Road, Corbally, of Mr. Patrick J. Quilligan, a member of one of the most respected families in the district. Mr. Quilligan returned from America some years ago and took up residence in the old homestead, which he re-constructed. He was a most enter- taining conversationalist, and took a deep interest in the history of Corbally district. Several articles from his pen on this subject have appeared in the "Chronicle," and were read with interest by our readers. Deceased was brother of the late Messrs. Thomas, James, Michael and John Quilligan, the latter an old member of the Limerick Corporation.

The funeral, which took place to-day from St. Patrick's Church to Mount St. Lawrence Cemetery, was attended by a very large number of citizens, and bore testimony to the respect in which the late Mr. Quilligan was held, and the sympathy felt for his bereaved relatives.

The clergy present were Very Rev. Canon O'Leary, P.P. (who officiated at the graveside), and Rev. Father Godfrey, C.C.

GUNS FOR ROSSLARE BOATS

Anti-Aircraft and Submarine Defence

The Great Western Railway Co.'s Rosslieve slum clearar in a very practic any harm to anyo say certain things. Certain people are Appointments Cor riod, and then al grandiose schem ward very proba ment and for se nothing practical schemes, which a this generation of Numerous people ing because of the Government. Thi an absolute fact their property mo and yet they are ance. If we wer scheme as it star harm to our f German Dictator. The whole thing v basis, and I prop tion of his scheme motion dealing v sites is dealt with

LAND

In reply to Mr. said that the Cou pulsorily land ad for housing sche: directed to proce of this scheme, deal with it.

Ald Reidy—Bu been handled on consider it dis people from the send them to th The cleared sites should be the fi

The City Su cleared sites in were built on o the required hou

Law Agent—Be slums you must people to be cle proposed to b Road people, fo built in the Rail pect.

CLEA

Ald. Reidy—M we should build