

The Late Rev. John Cahill

The remains of the Rev John Cahill, c c Glasnevin, Dublin, whose death occurred in Dublin on Friday last, were laid to rest at Mount St Lawrence Cemetery, on Monday. The remains had been brought from Dublin, where the Bishop of Thasos (Most Rev Dr Wall) had presided at Solemn Office and Requiem Mass at the Church of the Seven Dolours, Glasnevin.

The deceased priest was a native of Limerick, and was son of the late Michael Cahill, t Lanco manufacturer, Wickham street, Limerick, and cousin of Rev E Cahill, a J., the eminent Jesuit, and of Mr John Cahill, the popular Secretary of Limerick Race Company. He is survived by seven sisters, four of whom are nuns, one being in the Convent of Mercy, Limerick, one in England and two in India while three—Misses Gretta, Fanny and Alice Cahill, reside at the Ennis Road, Limerick.

The late Father Cahill had only been ill for a brief period, was educated at Clonliff and Maynooth, and was ordained in 1853. He was curate at Valleymount Parish, Wicklow for five years, and later went to Chapel z id, having been Chaplain for some years at the Dominican Convent, Dunlaoighaire. He was in the Glasnevin Parish for 14 years. A highly cultured and very refined priest, his gentle and kindly manner endeared him to all with whom he had come in contact, and much sympathy, in which we unreservedly join, is tendered to his sisters and other bereaved relatives.

The chief mourners were:—Misses Greta, Fannie and Alice Cahill (sisters), Rev E Cahill, S.J.; Mr J and Miss C Byrne (cousins), Mr and Mrs J Waldron, Mrs P Waldron, Mrs O'Hare, Miss Farrell, Mrs McCarthy, Master D and Miss B McCarthy, Mr and Mrs J O'Connor and P O'Connor (relatives).

There was a large attendance of clergy, both from Limerick and Dublin, present at the funeral.
