Tragic Death.

While clipping a hedge at the rere of his cottage at Effin, Co. Limerick, David Barry, a signalman in the employment of the Great Southern Railway Company, at Charleville Railway Station, took suddenly ill and expired. He had been for over 40 years in the employment of the railway company.