EXERCISES ON SUNDAY NEXT

Transport for members of the L.S.F. is urgently required for the exercises postponed until Sunday, 13th inst. An appeal to the generosity of the public to offer the use of their vehicles. Funds are not available to pay the cost of petrol and oil, but we supply coupons to cover the amount consumed. The free use of private vehicles, which will be confined to a radius of 16 miles of the city, would add materially to the success of the exercises. The use of motor vehicle, owner driven or otherwise, will be welcomed. Owners of vehicles desiring to participate will notify one of the undersigned or the Garda Station before 8 p.m. on the 11th inst.

Members of the L.S.F., especially those in the Transport and the Communication Sections, are particularly requested to bring their own cars. They should notify their Section Leader of their intention to do so, and obtain approval. The transport will assemble at Baker's (Tate's Clock) not later than 10 a.m.

DEATH OF MRS. M. FETTON, KILFINANE

Deep regret was expressed locally (writes our Kilfinane correspondent) when the death of Mrs. Mary Fetton, Lower Main Street, was announced last week. Deceased, who had attained a good age, was extremely popular, and her death is very much regretted by her numerous friends and relatives. The funeral, which was of large dimensions, took place on Sunday to the local cemetery. Rev. T. Cussen, C.C., Kilfinane, officiated.

TRAVELLED BY AIR

Returns issued by Aer Lingus, Ita., show that the company carried 3,556 passengers between Eire and Britain between April 1 and September 30. The total was 263 greater than for the corresponding period of 1939. That figure included 1,098 passengers on the Isle of Man service, which was suspended this year.

LATE MUSHROOMS

Although they may be considered out of date (writes our Kilfinane correspondent), it is remarkable that mushrooms are more plentiful now in this locality than they have been before.
