

JB.

a good deal of valuable been collected by the excava-gh Gur. Dr. Sean O'Riordan, Archaeology, Cork Univer-has been supervising opera-possible by a Government tly lectured on Lough Gur, is been brought to light. It variety of pre-Christian ear-useful and ornamental, as instruments, all of which are sorted, and housed in the Count de Sallis, pro tem. ble final destination will be Museum, unless an effort is is too late, to acquire a few or our own Museum, still in ic stage.

BETTER SERVICE.

inception of the city 'bus ser-ave been many built-up areas it were under pasture or ie parish of St. Munchin's instance of housing develop-the 'bus service remains the every forty minutes to and much enterprise displayed is not the first time attention rected to the matter. Thoa populous district, Farraneen built up, and a hundred ed on the Distillery site, not the Island Field project. A ent service is needed, and ppreciated by the people.

MUNICIPAL DINNERS.

Treasurer, Mrs. Woodhouse, cknowledges the sum of £10 ish Bank Officials' Associa-ck Local Committee).

inflexible on this question. The Minister may be assured that the case for the retention of the hospitals is not, as his advisers seem to think, based on sentiment but on the invaluable services rendered to the people of all classes in time of sickness. We do not know what the approach of Mr. Rutledge is likely to be; whether he has any preconceived views, but we hope he will take a more tolerant look at the situation than Mr.
O'Kelly or Mr. de Valera. Whatever about the Minister who now holds the Finance portfolio, we had thought the Taoiseach would be more considerate.
Anyhow, amends may be made, and a satisfactory solution emerge from the forthcoming interview. Should that be so, it will give unalloyed pleasure to the citizens of Limerick, but any arrangement which did not embrace restoration of the grants would be unacceptable.

DEATH.

JONES—February 11th, 1940, at Royal East Sussex Hospital, Hastings, Marion (Birdie), younger daughter of the late James and Victoria Hollywood, Limerick, and beloved wife of Enoch Jones, Hollington, St. Leonards-on-Sea.

CONDOLENCE.

LIMERICK VICTUALLERS' ASSOCIA-TION—At a meeting of the Limerick Victuallers' Association, votes of sympathy were passed with the relatives of the late Mr. Denis O'Mealy and Mr.
J. J. Sheehy, esteemed members of the Association.—John O'Connor, Hon. Sec.