DM MAYO TO MILAN

ONNA "RE-DISCOVERS" IRELAND

Burke Sheridan, the prima Mayo, after twenty years Italy, where she achieved on the applause of the most lences in the opera houses at tes, Milan, Florence and the centres, told her unseen ver the air the other night ne to "rediscover" her native ys the Irish Tourist Associa-1). She had been acting in Othello" and after the opera party of friends at supper in san Marco. Among the
 was the famous painter, ohn, R.A., who sat next to an. There was an exhibition at Venice just then and the turned to them. Suddenly ohn turned to Miss Sheridan to praise Connemara as an to inspire the artist. "His ny native west rang a bell in my heart," said Miss So that summer, "after s in golden Italy," she re-Ireland for a holiday and ed Connemara and Wicklow er lovely places. Since that 7" Miss Sheridan has been visitor to her native country is making a prolonged stay during which she has been a very large audience of her he great gifts that made her most popular artists and

CHARGE OF DESERTION.

Michael Mulvihill, who was charged with deserting from the National Army Volunteer Reserve, asked could he resign; his mother was sick and had none but him.

The Justice said he should hand him over to the military authorities; he could apply to the military.

OBITUARY

MR. JAMES J. DOHERTY, MOUNTCOLLINS.

The death of Mr. James J. Doherty, of Mountcollins, which took place in a Dublin hospital, following an operation, is much regretted in his native district, and by many friends outside it (writes our Abbeyfeale correspondent). Deceased had attained his 72nd year, and was on a visit to the old land from the States, where he was well and popularly known.
 One of a family esteemed and respected in West Limerick, and endowed with a natural disposition for kindly and generous acts, he commanded the friendship of many outside his native parish.
 A very large funeral procession accompanied the remains to Mountcollins Parish Church on Sunday, and next day the attendance of the public from various parts of Limerick, Kerry and Cork at the interment in the cemetery attached to the Parish Church was equally large and representative. Many expressions of sympathy were conveyed to his bereaved son and Mr. John Doherty, his brother, and other members of the family. The prayers at the graveside were read by the Rev. P. Ruddle, P.P., and Rev. W. J. Meade, C.C.

MR. JOHN LEAHY, TOURNAFULLA.

Regretted by numerous friends and relatives (writes our Abbeyfeale correspondent) the death of Mr. John Leahy took place at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Mulcahy, Tournafulla, at the age of 54. For years he was associated with the staff of Messrs. Todd and Co., Limerick, where he was much esteemed and respected. A very large funeral procession accompanied the remains from the Tournafulla Parish Church to Glantine Cemetery, where the interment took place in the family plot.

The prayers at the graveside were read by the Rev. Gerard Leahy, P.P., Dublin (nephew of deceased); Rev. P. Ruddle, P.P.; Rev. D. Rea, C.C. Many expressions of sympathy were tendered to his brother, Mr. Edmond Leahy, and other members of the family on their bereavement.
