

ADARE NOTES

(From Our Correspondent).

Recent Death

With very deep regret I have to record the death of Mr. William Hourigan, which occurred at his residence, Liskelly, on Friday night, 3rd inst., after a protracted illness, which was borne with true Christian patience. The deceased, who was called away in the prime of life, had just attained his 31st birthday. He was possessed of many rare qualities—in fact he was looked upon as a model young man in the district. Widespread sympathy is extended to the members of his family in their sad bereavement.

The Obsequies

His remains were removed on Saturday evening, 4th inst., to the Parish Church, where they lay overnight. His funeral took place on Sunday at Clounanna Cemetery and was very largely attended. It was a striking tribute to the popularity enjoyed by the deceased and members of his family. Rev. T. Macnamara, P.P., Patrickswell, assisted by Rev. Father Bluett, recited the last prayers at the graveside.

Local Successes at Dublin Show

The cattle presented from Lord Durraven's farm at this year's Spring Show were most successful. He succeeded in winning the much-coveted trophy, the De Malahide Cup for the best group, consisting of bull, cow, milk, two-year-old heifer and yearling heifer. In addition to the above, two first prizes, four second and one third were won in other sections.

Local Creameries

Black Abbey won second prize in Class 67, 56 lbs. keeping butter packed; Kilfinny Dairy Society, Adare, first prize, in Class 163, householder's parcel of 8 lbs. Congratulations are extended to Miss Stack, butter maker, Adare, and Miss M. B. Madigan, Kilfinny.

IRISH-IRELAND WEEK

ACTIVITIES OF CLANN NA h-EIREANN

The Limerick Branch of Clann na h-Eireann were under canvas for Whit week-end.

The site chosen for the camp was on the beautiful grounds of Lord Massey in Castleconnell, and from which a magnificent view of the surrounding countryside was obtained. The weather was gloriously fine and it was the unanimous opinion of the members that it was the most successful outing yet undertaken by the Clann.

The complete arrangements were in the hands of Dalac O'Ciardha and Michael O'Maolthaigh. Everything went with clock-work regularity, a fact which speaks volumes for the efficiency and organisation of the Clann.

It can be truly said that for three days Castleconnell resembled a miniature Gaeltacht.

Frequent visits to the camp by the Gaels of Castleconnell were returned with interest by members of the Clann, with the result that practically the whole village was speaking Irish at one time or another.

The Clann were entertained by the Gaels of Castleconnell, who held two big ceilidhs on Sunday and Monday nights in the Village Hall.

IMBUED WITH PROPER SPIRIT.

At the conclusion of the ceilidhe on Monday night Prionnsias MacGhiolla Losgaidh (An t-Uachtarán) thanked the Gaels of Castleconnell for the splendid welcome accorded the Clann. The visit had exceeded their most sanguine expectations, and they were extremely sorry such an enjoyable week-end had come to a close. But before they left he would like to congratulate the people for the wonderful Gaelic spirit they had displayed and thank them for the kindly and hospitable welcome they had extended to them. Castleconnell was indeed imbued with the proper spirit and he was sure they would do their utmost to help in the revival of the national tongue. He exhorted them to speak the language in public at every opportunity, as this example did more than anything else to spread it (applause).

WAS NO MERE DREAM.

Domhnall O' Cearbhaill, replying, said they did not expect any thanks for anything they had done. They had been amply rewarded in that respect. They were only too willing and anxious to help forward the interests of the language (applause). The last three days had been inspiring, and even the most pessimistic of people would have been convinced that the revival of the language was no mere dream but a practical possibility (applause). He firmly believed the salvation of the language lay in a movement

OBITUARY

MR. C. MCCARTHY, BALLYKEVIN

The death took place on May 1st of Mr. Charles McCarthy, Ballykevin, Ballygarry, Co. Limerick, at a fairly advanced age. Deceased was a gentleman of many good qualities, which included a kind disposition, a charitable nature and intellectual capabilities, all of which went to make him a very popular person in the district, where his demise is deeply regretted. He was a member of an old and respected family in the area, and the attendance present at his interment was evidence of the high esteem in which he was held by all and sundry. His remains were removed to the Parish Church, Ballygarry, on Thursday, 2nd May, where they were received by Rev. Father O'Keefe, C.C., who, with a large congregation, recited prayers for the repose of his soul. The interment took place on Friday to the family burial ground, Springfield, in the presence of a large and representative gathering.

The clergy in attendance were—Rev. Father Wall, P.P., Ballygarry; Rev. Father O'Connell, C.C., Fedamore; Very Rev. Canon O'Gorman, P.P., Kilmee; Very Rev. Canon Rea, P.P., Shanagolden; Rev. Father Leahy, P.P., Clounagh; Rev. Fr. O'Brien, P.P., Mahoonagh; Rev. Fr. O'Keefe, C.C., Ballygarry; Rev. Father O'Kelly, C.C., do.; Rev. Father O'Grady, C.C., Shanagolden.

The chief mourners were—Grace (widow), James and John (sons), Lena Leonard (sister), Denis McCarthy (brother), Charles McCarthy (grandson), Josephine and Susan McCarthy (daughters-in-law).

It would be impossible to give a full list of the friends and general public.

MR. T. J. FITZGERALD, GLENESRONE, ABBEYFEALE.

The death of Mr. Thomas J. Fitzgerald, of Glinesrone, Abbeyfeale, occurred after a protracted illness at the age of 67, and is regretted by many friends and relatives on both sides of the Feale. (writes our Abbeyfeale correspondent). A well-known and highly respected farmer, his probity and rectitude during life in his public and ordinary activities were appreciated in a district to some extent indebted to his willingness to assist the public services. As owner of the lands from which the town of Abbeyfeale derived for many years its water supply, prior to its acquisition from the Feale, he afforded the public, on reasonable terms, every facility to meet the needs of the people, whenever asked for his co-operation. With numerous connections in Limerick and Kerry his funeral to Abbeyfeale parish church, and subsequent interment in St. Mary's Cemetery, were attended by very large numbers of sympathisers. A large number of Mass cards were placed on the bier. For the respected members of his family, including those in distant clisters, much sympathy is felt.

The prayers at the graveside were read by the Very Rev. T. Canon Hegan, P.P., V.F.; Rev. J. Houlahan, C.C.; Rev. W. J. Meade, C.C.; Rev. Father Murphy, C.C., Monagea.

It would be impossible to give the names of the relatives and others present from various parts of Limerick and Kerry.

MISS M. B. LISTON, COOLTOMIN

The death of Miss Mary Budget Liston, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Liston, Cooltomin, Shanagolden, which occurred at the County Hospital, Croom, early on Thursday morning, 9th inst., caused very deep and poignant regret to her relatives, neighbours and a large circle of friends.

Deceased, who was in her early prime, was a highly educated and cultured young lady. She spent some years in religion with the Sisters of St. Joseph of Cluney at Febane, and also in Belgium. Much to her regret, she was obliged, owing to failing health, to leave the cloisters and return to the world. But her vocation for the sacred calling ever-constant, she anxiously hoped that her native air would restore her health so that she might rejoin the community to which she was so dearly attached and continue her good work in the vineyard of the Lord. But God's ways are not ours, and while her demise at an early age was very sad for her parents and brothers and sisters, it was a grand and abiding consolation for them to know that one of the good Sisters with whom she laboured was with her in her last moments as she passed to her eternal reward, fortified by the rites of Holy Church.

The remains were removed to Coolecappa Church on Thursday evening and the interment took place to the New Cemetery, Rathkeale, on Friday. On both occasions the funerals were extremely large and representative.

The officiating clergy were—Very Rev. J. Canon Fitzgerald, P.P.; Rev. R. Dunworth, P.P.; Rev. F. Finn, C.C.; and Rev. P. Quinn, C.S.Sp., Kilshane, Co. Tipperary.

A large number of Mass cards were laid on the coffin.

SCHOOLS HURLING
Olo Cup Final

T. MUNCHIN'S V ST. MICHAEL'S

Next Sunday is the big day of the Limerick schoolboys' athletic year—the Olo Cup Final Day. When I say that the finalists are those old rivals of many a hard-fought game—St. Michael's C.B.S. and St. Munchin's C.B.S., I have said enough for those who know the finalism of old. If you have not already experienced the thrill of one of those hard-day schoolboy battles, then the day is Sunday, May 19th, the time, 3.30, the venue, the ever-popular Markets Field. This is the third, and, incidentally, the third successive meeting of those teams—the final. Two years ago St. Munchin's failed by a single point; last year they had their revenge, and so on Sunday next they will have the double incentive of holding on to the cup and being the third game of the rubber. The age limit has taken heavy toll of the players who lined out in the last two years. W. Ahern and J. Michell (St. Munchin's) are the lone survivors of the 1938 final, while with those two P. J. Dennell, J. Cregan, A. O'Meara (St. Munchin's) and D. Collopy, J. McCarthy (St. Michael's), played last year. The newcomers, however, can be depended on to give more than a good account of themselves.

When they met in the League two months ago the Thomondgate boys won. Michael's, however, were short their back (J. Coffey) and two forwards. They reckon them to be worth at least the three goals margin by which St. Munchin's won. The latter's forwards have proved themselves sharp shooters, but it is doubtful if they have come up against backs of the calibre they will meet on Sunday.
