

Browners' Schools, Sex-he showed aptitude for

ODY.

absence of sanitary
the Markets premises Mayor at the meeting
during the week, and is to do the needful entation to the Markets if there ever existed an it is Limerick Markets meetings are like angels' they do assemble, it is another in surprised ad-are more of an impedip to the Receiver, who is duties very satisfac-1, should not be inflicted a body as was ever very many to share the Donnellan that an arn should be revived. It e of City Sword and it ceremonial functions Mayor and Corporation.

ople likes a splash of a the Irish, and with ervation of old instituy prized. Whoever was having the Maces conmbo of forgotten things than Cromwell. We are nellan's question to the no other reason that get an occasional day

DIGNITY.

ut of keeping with the id status if the Mayor-d of every semblance of here is something to be and those who atten-

This statement, as far as I can remember, deals with all the facts raised by the deputation.

DEATH OF DUBLIN OFFICIAL

Native of Limerick

Mr. Michael Joseph McEnery, Deputy Keeper of Public Records and Keeper of State Papers for all Ireland, 1914-'21, died on Tuesday, 12th inst., at his res-dence, Highfield Road, Dublin, at the fine age of 82.

Born in Co. Limerick, Mr. McEnery was educated in the old Queen's College, Cork, where his course was very distinguished. A prizeman all through, he graduated in law, and subsequently entered the Civil Service, passing in third in class I. He entered the Public Record Office in 1881, where he spent his entire official career of 40 years, filling successfully every post. In 1911 indeed a special post was created for him—that of an Extra Assistant Keeper of Records, with the duty of translating difficult documents for the British Museum.

LIMERICK UNEMPLOYED

Deputation at Leinster House

A deputation claiming to speak for 2,000 Limerick unemployed approached a number of Deputies at Leinster House on Wednes., and asked their assistance in the provision of work, and also for an alteration in the system of recruitment of labour, with special reference to schemes promoted by the Corporation.

The Deputies were asked to direct the attention of the Minister for Industry