NOT SATISFACTORY.

The renovations carried out some time ago to the City Courthouse transformed that once drab and dreary building into a very comfortable place. Yet, as the result of experience, it is found that the new location of the witness "box" is far from ideal. It is very difficult to hear witnesses, and it is suggested that the stand should be provided in a more central position. This, of course, would necessitate some reshuffling of the seating accommodation, but as the cost would be a mere trifle it is felt that the job should be undertaken without delay. In all other respects, the courthouse is, in popular parlance, "tip-top."
