Drought.

Seldom has such a prolonged spell of fine weather been experienced in the locality. The fields are parched, while rivers and streams are almost dry, and the local water supply is barely sufficient.

The All-Ireland.

Dromcollogher, in common with the rest of the county, rejoices on the smashing victory scored by the Limerick hurlers in the All-Ireland final on Sunday last. A record crowd from the locality made the journey to Dublin, while intense excitement prevailed around the various wireless sets.

Bull Inspection.

At the autumn bull inspection at Drom-collogher, out of ten animals presented,
six passed and four were rejected.

Dromcollogher Markets.

At the usual weekly markets average supplies were on offer, and the following prices prevailed:—Chickens, 1/- per lb.;
old fowl, 6d. per lb.; old ducks, 8d. per lb.;
geese, 2/6 each; eggs, 1/6 per doz.; butter,
1/7 per lb.; potatoes, 1/- per st.

KILFINANE ITEMS

(From Our Correspondent).

Late Miss M. O'Mahony.

With feelings of deepest sympathy we record the death of Miss Margaret O'Mahony, which sad event took place in Dublin last week. Deceased, who was of a gentle and peaceful disposition, was extremely popular, and her death is very much regretted by her numerous friends and relatives. The remains were brought by motor hearse to St. Andrew's Church, Kilfinane, and on the following day were interred at the family burial ground, Molua, in the presence of a large assemblage of mourners.

Chief Mourners.

The chief mourners were:—John and Richard O'Mahony (brothers); Miss Mary Mulcahy (niece); Rev. Maurice Mulcahy, P.P., Waterville, Washington,
U.S.A.; Patrick Mulcahy and William
Mulcahy (nephews); Mr. and Mrs. M.
Foley, Mr. John Foley, Lena O'Mahony,
Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Fagan, Miss Rita
Fagan, Miss Julia Clery, Mr. and Mrs.
David Walsh, Misses Josephine and Kitty
Walsh, Mr. and Mrs. H. Whelan, Mrs.
Hannan and Mr. Cornelius Hannan (cousins).

Rev. J. Carr, P.P., Killinane, and Rev.
T. Cussen, C.O., do., officiated at the graveside. R.I.P.
