

Mr. Michael Ryan, Limerick, Co.C., also wrote that illness prevented him from attending the session to the Cemetery. He played the flute during the DEVOTED SERVICE. The monument. Deputy as gratified to see such a number of the workers practically all branches of the City to do honour to their late Colleague. They, in the words of erect him a monument yet fit for the simple whilst it was meet that memorials should be erected over lands to mark the perpetuate the memory of statesmen, scientists, their particular contribution towards the standards of man. Some time unfortunately dedicated for destruction, it was right and proper people of the country to place their own simple but devoted service, even and unostentatious, to was the life of Michael in that rural district, he short span amongst the and who loved him for to place his facile pen at the disposal of all came to him for advice.

FURDY CHAMPION. boards, where he was the workers' interests, well a wise and sturdy in particular will he be his sterling advocacy the Cottier Tenants in the right to own their. He gave valuable evidence to the Commission set up to question, and arising out of the present unsatisfactory purchase. He, unfortunately, did not see the fruition of his efforts, as he died at an assembly gathered to rove convincingly that

Limerick City and unmindful of his work, and they came to pay nothing they could pay, the lasting affection and in their prayers that his wife, he is now in the eternal bliss which believed God grants as who live their life as the farmers' houses where particular attention is given to diet and general care. All the students attend school from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. The classes are taught by the local teachers. In the afternoons they attend a ceoldithe where they are taught Irish dances. Singing lessons, debates and dramatic classes are also held.

WHAT IS HEARD AT THE FIRESIDE.

Each student has a "leabhar-teinteann" note-book—in which he writes local idioms, stories and poems heard around the fireside at night. This book is examined daily by the teachers. Visits are paid to places of scenic and historic interest in the locality, including Laois Caragain, the birth place of An tAth Peadar O'Laoghaire, and St. Gobnait's Well. Gougane Barra and Ballingarry, so famous for their scenic attractions, are also visited. This year a special aerideacht will be held during the August week-end in Coolea and will be attended by the members of the Cumann Gaodhlac na hOllsgoile, who will be in Ballingarry for their annual conference.

The children are in charge of Dolir Ni Dhuibhghin, O.G.; Seoirse Mac Tadg, O.G.; Mairtin Mac Caba and Maire Ni Uallachain.

The following officials of Limerick Coisde na bPáiste were present to see the children off: Mr. M. Tuohy, N.T., President, City Branch, Gaelic League; Mrs. M. Flannagan, N.T., Secretary, An Fáinne, and Miss Mairín Finucane, Secretary Thomond Feis.

MEATH MAN'S DEATH IN LIMERICK.

One of Ardbreacan's oldest families has been bereaved by the death of Mr. Christopher Powderly, which occurred at his residence, St. Joseph Street, Limerick, on Wednesday. He was brother of Mr. James Powderly, Ardbreacan, a respected farmer of the district, and of the late Mr. Thomas Powderly, who was for many years rate collector to the Navan Urban Council. He was uncle of Messrs. Thomas Powderly, O'Gowney Terrace, Navan; James Rourke, Rathfarnham; John Foley, formerly Town Clerk of Navan, and Patrick Foley, Assistant Superintendent of the G.N.R. Company. The deceased left Navan about fifty years ago, but always had a warm regard for his native town which he visited occasionally. He is survived by two sons and one daughter. He had always a warm welcome for Meath people visiting Limerick.

GAVE TIM HEALY HIS FIRST BRIEF

The man who had the distinction of handing T. M. Healy his first brief (writes would eventually consist of two parts, one for each other for adults. But the proposals are confined to the their constituency would be more elaborate since would keep in mind and which would be put into concrete form. Meanwhile we must await Mr. O'Brien's approach to the authorities. If this approach can be started very shortly Departmental funds would be used it will at least some pleasure of managing and, perhaps, when the scheme is carried out is so difficult to get completion.

UNSTARTED WORKS.

It came as a bitter blow to unemployed when the Government decided against proceeding with County Courthouse and proceedings. The Committee cited reasons of expense, why the it injudicious to go ahead proposals in view of world unrest and financial pending struggles. At the might be worth while to start of the development work there should be a sufficient grant. The Regional Board also appears to have fallen news lately. This was one which was looked upon as of providing employment. It that here again development be begun. These works, it would give useful employment preliminary to the more extensive which would follow on later.

FIRE-FIGHTERS.

Squads of men continue in fire-fighting methods under scheme. It is proposed to auxiliary fire stations in the existing one, and there are of fire-fighting materials. Of outbreaks the auxiliary will be first called on, as it is advisable to keep the main reserve for major operations.