the work on O'Dea's house was £56, and the Department agreed to give a grant of £40 towards the work. When the witness examined the place, he found that the specification had not been completed, and the £10 was withheld pending its completion.

John O'Dea, the respondent, stated that his agreement with Madden was that the house would be reconstructed for £42. Madden's son was not present at the agreement. He did not give any directions to make alterations in the flooring and up to the present the bedroom floor had not been completed.

The Judge he was satisfied that the weight of the evidence was in favour of the defendant. He believed the Judge below was right and, therefore, he would dismiss the case with costs.

He would also dismiss the counter-claim.

DEATH OF MR. D. PUNCH

We regret to announce the death of Mr. David Punch, which occurred in the County Infirmary on Saturday evening. He was a well-known citizen, and formerly buyer of the woollen department of Messrs. William Todd and Co. Within recent years he resided in Patrickswell, where he carried on a grocery and spirit business. Mr. Punch's connection with the drapery trade in Limerick began with his apprenticeship. He had fine business qualities and was extremely popular. His demise has occasioned much sorrow amongst numerous friends, and sympathy felt for his widow and family in their bereavement.

The funeral took place from St. John's Cathedral on Monday, after Requiem Mass, to Mount St. Lawrence Cemetery.
