

HKEALE NOTES

HOSPITAL ECHOES

BALLYL

NO

(From Our Correspondent).

(From Our Correspondent).

(From Our C

the Races.
 Secretary, Mr. G. Boyle, and of the Rathkeale Race Com-tell me that they expect first-ing and a record attendance at r's meeting on Tuesday. All arrangements are being well at-so as to reach the usual high of efficiency. A very useful this year for the convenience general public will be a bus from the town to the course.

* * *

Work Course.
 Killackey, Manual Instructor e County Vocational Education e, will open an eight weeks k course in the Carnegie Lib-Monday, 2nd September. There n evening class for boys at 4 nd a night class for adults at 8

* * *

Opportunity.
 nd men anxious to take advanthe course should attend at the date as only a limited number enrolled in each class. There is to remind those who attended ackey's courses here on precasions that this is a splendid ity to get first class manual both elementary and advanced.

* * *

Wreath Sets Headline.
 Ballingarry Branch of the Red s purchased over 20 tons of turf poor of the parish. The turf, as hand-cut with the sleaghan re near Carrickerry, is of ex-quality. It is being hauled home and will be stored and held in so as fuel may be available for needy circumstances when the eather sets in.

Opportunity.
 adline set by Ballingarry is one ht well be copied elsewhere, esas I understand there is plenty or sale at a reasonable price in bogs. The time is also oppor-the long spell of dry weather ground everywhere just now in ion that facilitates loading and 7. Dromcollogher. he issue had been in doubt for 40 Ardagh, in a decisive finish beat ogher by 7 goals 4 points to 3 points in the West Limerick irling semi-final at Rathkeale on Playing with the breeze, Drom-had the best of matters in during the early stages of the Late Mrs. Ryan.

 The death occurred last week at her residence, Main Street, of Mrs. M. Ryan, wife of Mr. Denis Ryan, and mother of Mr. John Ryan, N.T., Laragh, Kenmare; Mr. Thomas Ryan, Irish Tourist Association representative, Dublin; Mrs. N. M.
 Cronin, N.T., Bohermore, and Mrs. B.
 Murphy, N.T., Monasteraven, Co. Kildare.
 Deceased was an octogenarian and had been in delicate health for a number of years. A teacher in her early years, her enthusiasm for education which she instilled in her children, three of whom followed her example by entering the teaching profession. A lady of unobtrusive habits and reserved in manner, she devoted herself almost solely to the welfare of her home and family. She was an ardent and pious Catholic, being a member of the Sacred Heart Sodality for over fifty years. Though of a retiring disposition, she had a deep warmth of feeling and a spontaneous and cheery welcome for her many friends who recognised beneath her calm exterior, the genuine friendliness and good nature of her innately kind and considerate character. Her death, though at such an advanced age and not unexpected, nevertheless came as a severe shock to her family. R.I.P.

Obsequies.
 Her remains were removed to the Parish Church on Wednesday evening accompanied by a large cortege of friends and sympathisers. The interment took place on the following day in the adjoining cemetery, after Requiem Office and High Mass. The attendance at the graveside was extremely large and representative, testifying to the widespread popularity of the deceased lady and to the unstinted sympathy extended to her bereaved husband, family and grand-children. The last prayers at the graveside were recited by Rev. Father Power, C.C., Hospital, assisted by Very Rev. Canon Humphreys, P.P., Knockainey, and Rev. Father Fitzgerald, C.C., Herbertstown.

Visit of Count de Salis.
 Tall, bronzed and military-looking, Count de Salis has been on a visit to the district last week, being the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Reynolds, Kenmare Castle. ago on the death of his father, the young on the death of his father, the young Count adopted a military career, and has had many stirring adventures since the outbreak of the war. Obtaining a few days leave, the young nobleman took the advantage of paying a visit to his native district, and during his stay here made a

A Pattern Day Poem
 I give hereunder the last "Pattern Day" N.F.W., to whom I
BALLYLANDERS
 Don't talk of Fland
 Where the pattern thrill;
 'Tis grand the striv ing
 Of customs that a
 With joy unboun sounded,
 The young and thronged;
 With human feeli stealing,
 And some for a longed.
 Old place of gran wander, Amid the bliss a I'd drink of gladnes
 Just as our gran
 Speak not of Fland
 And the Pattern
 cheer,
 Just as I'm wri
 fighting,
 And 1940 filled wit Oh! leave me drea teeming,
 Keeps yet in voga Tradition speaking seeking A story brighter t Old times renewing
 The pilgrim acts c
 In sacred places, th Where saints ha ways.
 Oh! Ballylanders,
 Flanders,
 Your vesper bells
 Than other chiming
 Because you ring
 Old day of glory, oh
 In Ballylanders F
 Cod keep you liv giving,
 The joy in glen,
 Oh! leave me thi drinking,
 The waters from
 With faith abiding,
 ing,
 Unchanged throu dell.
 'Tis Ballylanders a
 The Pattern Day
 We'll keep on str