RAILWAY STATION

and gyrations of a heiferonsiderable amusement for at the Limerick Railway lay evening. The animal, ring from milk fever, be-cited while in the station arged about wildly in all the general stampede that people got knocked down, no injury. Eventually the had to be closed and a tched the gyrations of the outside the railing. After a a number of men suc-pping the heifer, which l when released of its milk.

U-DATE AFRICA

H. White, F.R.G.S., said formerly known as the d," was now an extensive ell laid out, and up-to-date, ark which cost £22,000. At seen a hospital occupying it a square mile.

NOT PRYING

e might think that Parish prying into traders' busi-ey ask for a census of the d on hands, said Mr. T.
.C., at New Ross Parish ir duty, he added, was to ount of stocks available ergency arise.

TRAFFIC REGULATIONS.

What has become of the proposed traffic regulations for the city? It was stated some months ago that the Garda authorities had approved the bye-laws and that the regulations would come into force in the early summer. We have now entered the last month of autumn, and Limerick is still without any regular code for the regulation and control of traffic. It is suggested that the Corporation is responsible for the hold-up inasmuch as it is the duty of that body to erect appropriate traffic signs at selected places. Well! Well!

NEW OFFICERS TAKE OATH

The ceremony of administering the oath to newly commissioned officers of the Army took place in Collins Barracks, Cork, on Monday. The oath was administered by Colonel M. J. Costelloe, O.C. Southern Command. Among the newly commissioned officers were:
Maurice A. Curtin, Newcastle West;
Philip J. Twomey, Limerick; John Davern, Elton, Knocklong; Daniel O'Carroll, Glin; Anthony P. O'Hurley, Kil-finane; Richard F. O'Shaughnessy, Kil-finane; Donnchadh Quill, Tarbert.

RECORD RETURN FROM SINGLE POTATO

Mr. William O'Donnell, of New Street, Abbeyfeale (writes our Abbeyfeale correspondent), planted one large potato seed, which he protected from the early frosts, covering the shoots as they appeared with a mixture of ashes and earth. Another who was interested in the experiment saw him take from the seed a few days ago one stone and 4 lbs. of potatoes, one of which weighed 2 1/2 lbs.
