

Death of Mr W McAuley

Mr Wm McAuley, surgeon dentist, one of the leading amateur golfers in Britain and second son of a veteran Irish Rugby international, Mr Jack McAuley, for years captain of the Garryowen club, has died at his home in New Cross, London, of pneumonia. Mr McAuley, who was in the forties, and a bachelor, had practised in London for over twenty years.
