County Limerickman's Death

One of the few surviving members of the old Irish Parliamentary Party, Dr Robert Ambrose, died while on holiday at Wells, Somerset, following a fall down the stairs. He was 85, and as hale and hearty as many men half his age, and had been practising in London for over forty years. Dr Ambrose was M.P for West Mayo from 1893 to 1910. Son of the late Michael Ambrose, of Newcastle West, co. Limerick, he is survived by his widow and three sons and a daughter.
