

Died In Belfast Nursing Home

Noted Clare Specialist

The death occurred in St John's Nursing Home, Belfast, of Dr Patrick Joseph Hayden Mulholland, a noted eye specialist of the city. A native of Ennis, he was distinguished in the sphere of music as well as medicine. He was Mus. Bac. of the Royal University of Ireland, has several compositions to his credit, and frequently acted as adjudicator at the Belfast festival. He studied ophthalmology at Vienna, Germany and Egypt, and his prominence in this sphere was recognised by his nomination this year for the Presidency of the Irish Ophthalmological Society.