Well-Known Priest Bereaved

By the demise of Mr John Hannan, of Ballinaguile, Croagh, who passed away on Sunday after a protracted illness, bereavement has come to the Very Rev Canon Hannan, P.P., V.S., Newcastle West, who was his brother, and who was so deservedly held in such high esteem during his years at St. Michael's, and later as P.P. of St. Mary's in Limerick, and who now extend their sincere sympathy to him in his loss. Solemn Requiem Mass was offered up for the repose of the deceased's soul at Kilfinny Church this (Tuesday) morning after which the funeral, which was of huge dimensions, took place.
